Snark Passes Tests in First 2-Way Flight

Guided Missile Sent On 6,000-Mile Trip, Returned to Florida

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Snark intercontinental guided missile blazed aloft today on what reportedly was a highly successful round trip flight of several thousand miles.

The 69-foot Snark, capable of hauling a nuclear warhead on 6,000-mile missions, touched down on the landing strip after a two-way ocean test flight, informed sources said.

The missile has been recovered intact and flown again in previous successful tests.

The objective reportedly was to fire the Snark several thousand miles down range, turn it around and bring it back to the Cape.

The missile was deliberately destroyed on a test a month ago.

The Snark, which has scored numerous hits at the 5,000-mile mark, is powered by twin high-thrust booster rockets for takeoff and a turbojet engine for a sustained flight that may last as long as 10 hours.

The Strategic Air Command's 556th Guided Missile Squadron currently is undergoing proficiency training with the Snark at the Cape.

The 556th is expected to be assigned to the first operational Snark launching site at Presque Isle, Maine, in the near future.

Byrd Opposes Bills Proposed By Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic fiscal policies in the 86th Congress came under attack from a conservative Democrat today.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said in a statement that two Senate-passed bills would permit more than three billion dollars of what he called backdoor expenditures even before Congress has acted on its first appropriations bill.

He referred to a $2,675,000,000 housing bill and a 465-million-dollar federal aid to airport measure. Both were sponsored by Democrats and largely opposed by Senate Republicans. Neither has yet been acted on by the House.

The bills permit spending, Byrd said, by using Treasury debt receipt and contract authorizations procedures which effectively short circuit controls by the appropriations committees.

Under normal procedure, an expenditure first must be authorized by Congress, and then acted on a second time in a bill to provide the actual money.

Byrd told the Senate Monday that more than 200 billion dollars of federal spending in the last 30 years have been handled through Treasury debt receipts outside of congressional appropriations control.

Senate Approves Extra Space Fund

Negotiation Suggested

Council May Fight Water Rate Boost

(Water Rate Table on Page 15)

An attempt to negotiate a reduction in the water rate increases proposed by the Marion Water Co. will be made by City Council.

Such was the determination voiced by members of council during a discussion of the proposal at Monday night's council meeting. The discussion was launched by Karl Dune, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for mayor.

"I think it's a discriminatory increase," he declared.

HE WANTED to know what course of action was open to the city under the terms of the franchise agreement between the city and the company.

Harold Smith (D-at large) answered that the company has the right to take its case before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and that action by the commission would overrule any council action on the proposal.

The company, which seeks rate increases averaging between 55 and 60 per cent, plans to seek PUCO approval.

Mr. Smith called attention to the 1949 rate battle and recalled that after council turned down a company rate increase proposal of 25 per cent, the PUCO granted an increase of 35 per cent.

Both Ralph Williams (R-4th) and Thomas Fetter (D-at large) replied that in their opinion council will oppose the boosts. "I think most of us are agreed we should fight them," said Mr. Fetter.

MR. SMITH said previously that he believed council wouldn't even consider approving the rate increase proposal.

During the course of the discussion last night Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th), utilities committee chairman, said that her committee got the proposal only last Thursday and hasn't had time to study it completely yet.

"We are going to hold some more meetings on the proposal," she asserted.

Mr. Dune also called attention to statements of J. W. Heiney, Water Co. president, and L. Otis Porter, manager, made last Thursday night pertaining to negotiation of the rate proposal.

The water company officials suggested the rates would not be open to negotiation by council at this time but did not close the door on negotiation. They said that the company was willing to further discuss the rate proposal with council.

Tip Leads to Arrest

Four Nabbed in $72,000 New York Bank Holdup

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (AP) — Police today arrested a plumber, an insurance salesman, a blueprint developer and a tavern owner and said they admitted pulling a $72,000 bank robbery here Monday.

The plumber was picked up Monday night on a tip. After all-night questioning, police said, he named his accomplices.

Police said the three accomplices were counting the money when they were surprised this morning.

Money Recovered

All the money was recovered.

They walked out carrying shopping bags stuffed with the cash and leaving a tear gas bomb behind them to terrify the bank customers and employes. The bomb failed to go off.

Detective Stuyvesant Pinnell identified the four as:

Thomas Parks, 27, a plumber of Bay Shore; Anatole Rylsky, 44, a tavern owner, of West Babylon; Richard Hatch, 53, a blueprint developer, of West Babylon; and William McHenry, 31, an insurance salesman, of Lindenhurst, all on Long Island.

The three counting the money were taken by police at Rylsky's home, police said.

The four were charged with assault and armed robbery.

Pinnell said Parks was picked up on a tip that he had tried to buy some handcuffs.

Since police had investigated several recent holdups using handcuffs, they were curious. Under questioning, Parks admitted the purchase of the face masks, and finally named his associates, police said.

Robbers Cool, Quick

The holdup was marked by cool precision throughout and took only three minutes.

It was 2:15 p.m. when the four men parked their 1952 coupe in the lot behind the Security National Bank in this Long Island community.

Leaving the engine running, they strode briskly, single file, through the back door. Two carried machine guns, two carried pistols. Each wore a comical rubber nose mask, with attached goggles.

Steps Over Counter

One of the men walked into the office of Manager Frank Edmonds. Another bandit waved the 12 customers and bank employes into a corner of the bank.

A third bandit walked swiftly through a swinging door at one

H. L. Yochum To Be Speaker At Graduation

Capital U. President Selected by School Board for Program

The Marion City Board of Education Monday night selected H. L. Yochum, president of Capital University, as the speaker for commencement exercises Friday, June 5. The group approved an honorarium of $75 for the talk.

In other business the resignation of Harding Coach Gordon Larson was formally accepted, effective April 1. At that time he will assume his new duties as backfield coach at Ohio State University.

Proposal Endorsed

A discussion of school finance resulted in the board endorsing a proposal currently before the state legislature and also voicing opposition to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's recent suggestion that State Foundation support for Ohio communities be reduced.

The group endorsed the bill which, if enacted, would enable a board of education to invest inactive funds in government securities for a period not to exceed two years.

Supt. Robert S. Brown explained that under the present setup, only one per cent interest can be drawn from inactive funds. He noted that the new bill would allow accumulation of interest as high as three and one-half per cent.

Will Provide Revenue

The school head pointed out that a considerable increase in revenue could be realized through the change. Local funds applicable under the bill would be the $100,000 in the school's construction account.

Members of the board concurred in the feeling that any reduction in State Foundation funds, as recently proposed by the governor, would place an undue tax burden on the community.

The superintendent was delegated to notify state school officials

Federal Flood Relief Money Sought by City

Federal funds will be sought by Marion to help defray the repair cost of January flood damage to the city's sewage treatment plant.

Authorization to apply for the federal funds through Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was granted to Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis in a resolution unanimously adopted by City Council at its meeting Monday night.

Mr. Travis told council that estimated damage to the sewage treatment plant, caused when floodwater covered electric-driven pumps, heating equipment and other equipment, was $5,761.

He said that the damage was inspected by representatives of the state and federal governments and the city may be eligible to receive $3,225 from federal disaster funds.

The flood knocked the sewage treatment plant out of operation for a number of days. Employes were able to move some of the equipment out of reach of the water but most of it was submerged and was damaged in varying degrees depending on the nature of the equipment, Mr. Travis said.

Foreign Power Blamed

Rebellion Put Down, Iraqi Regime Claims

U.S. Rejects Proposal by Khrushchev

Freedom Guarantee For All of Berlin Is Suggested U.S. Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three world leaders were urged by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) today to counter, the latest Soviet proposal with an offer for a four-power guarantee of freedom for all of Berlin.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev limited his suggestion Monday to West Berlin. He said "a minimum number of troops," drawn either from the four major powers or from neutral nations, might be stationed there.

Shares Skepticism

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader, said in an interview he shares the skepticism of other U.S. leaders concerning the various Khrushchev proposals. But he said the West could take advantage of Khrushchev's suggestion for a guarantee of West Berlin's independence with neutral or Big Four troops.

"That wouldn't be enough," Mansfield said. "But if Khrushchev wants to cover all of Berlin under United Nations guarantees on access and control of East and West Berlin, then I think that would be worthy of consideration."

Gets Cautious Reception

Khrushchev's proposal, which met a cautious reception from State Department officials, was described by Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as only a variation of an old story.

"It sounds like some of the things that Mikoyan was saying when he was here," Fulbright said. He alluded to conversations committee members had with Anastas I. Mikoyan, deputy Soviet premier, on his visit to this country.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, interpreted the latest Khrushchev statement as an indication that the Soviet leader may be seeking to maneuver his way out of his Nov. 27 ultimatum for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

"But it is difficult to judge what Khrushchev is up to," Dirksen said. "That was his Monday statement. What he will say today or tomorrow we don't know. He changes position as fast as the slots in a revolving door."

Brandt Says 'No' To Russians' Plan

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt today rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to station Soviet troops in West Berlin to help guarantee its independence as a so-called free city.

Allied diplomats in Berlin also were cool to the plan. One called it a dangerous trap. Others said it was unacceptable in its present form, but might be the basis of negotiations.

Brandt told the City Parliament that the proposal for a Big Four garrison in West Berlin would merely serve to expand the Soviet area of occupation.

Khrushchev proposed Monday night before an East Berlin rally that either neutral troops or Big Four troops be stationed in West Berlin to guarantee free city status.

Low of 26 Is Forecast In Marion Area Tonight

An official one inch of snow fell in Marion County Monday night, as winter kept its grip on the area.

The mercury rose to a high of 43 Monday, fell to an overnight low of 26, then got back to 30 by noon today, with 37 the anticipated high.

The weatherman predicted clouds and colder circumstances tonight, with a low of 26 on tap. Warmer weather is expected Wednesday, however, with the possibility of rain by afternoon or evening.

Nasser Is Hit By Premier As Instigator

Arab Republic Leader Blasted for Weekend Nationalist Uprising

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iraq's government reiterated today it has crushed the week-end nationalist uprising and accused a foreign power—apparently meaning President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic—of stirring up the trouble.

The rebels, whether by choice or necessity, maintained radio silence after signing off at midnight with a final claim to control of all north Iraq.

No Further Challenge

The victory declarations of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's Communist-influenced regime via Radio Baghdad met no further challenge on Middle East airwaves.

Mystery still surrounded the insurrection led by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf in oil-rich Mosul. Few specific details had been disclosed by either side.

"We advise this country that is cooperating with imperialism to stop spreading lies, because these will not affect the Iraqi republic," he said.

Will Preserve Republic

"This imperialist state must know that the people and army of Iraq are determined to preserve our republic and smash all imperialist stooges."

Kassem's regime has been at odds with Nasser for months over the Iraqi leader's refusal to adopt a policy of Arab unity along lines advocated in Cairo.

The rebel radio in the north Iraq oil city of Mosul had grown steadily weaker before it stopped broadcasting about midnight Monday.

The final rebel broadcast repeated the aims of the revolution. Several listening posts in Beirut which heard the rebel radio signals clearly Monday could not find a trace of the station this morning.

The two sides had kept up a running drumfire of conflicting victory claims. Crowds of Kassem supporters celebrated through the streets of Baghdad as the government radio blared word that the insurrection had been smashed.

Crowds Cheer

The crowds cheered wildly as government broadcasts proclaimed that Kassem's planes and troops had knocked out the rebels and that Shawaf had been slain. A rebel broadcast quickly denied this and said that a rebel column was marching on Baghdad.

The early rebel broadcasts made it plain the insurgents were siding with Arab unity aims of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. The rebels did not mention Nasser by name, but they declared they would undo what they called Kassem's isolation of Iraq from other Arab countries.

The rebel radio also blasted the growing strength of communism in Baghdad government circles.

"We do not want to replace our Moslem religion with atheism," it said.

Leaders Confer in Paris

Macmillan Seeks De Gaulle's Views

PARIS (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said today he had found "a great measure of sympathy and agreement" in a three-hour meeting with President Charles de Gaulle of France on the Berlin and German situations.

He made the statement as he left Elysee Palace after a meeting that lasted an hour longer than expected.

Reporters asked him for his impressions of the talks. He first started by saying "full agreement" but then said "a great measure of agreement."

DE GAULLE is believed to favor a much tougher approach to the Soviet Union that the British are.

Macmillan and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd walked back to the British Embassy after the session. Some passers-by shouted "Vive Macmillan." One dissenter cried "Macmillan go home," and Macmillan looked up startled.

The big item to be thrashed out was Macmillan's new approach to the old idea of arms reduction in central Europe—a proposition of which De Gaulle and the French are highly suspicious.

With De Gaulle and Macmillan for their talks were British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The two foreign secretaries met for an hour first to iron out details so their chiefs could immediately come to grips with the big problems of Western policy in the face of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's maneuverings in Germany.

THE LATEST Khrushchev suggestion for making West Berlin a free city but with a token Big Four garrison including Soviet soldiers got a cool reception in Washington and other Allied capitals.

The Soviet premier made his suggestion at a Communist meeting in East Berlin Monday night. It came a few hours after Macmillan arrived here on the first stop of his swing around Paris, Bonn and Washington to give Western leaders a report on his talks in Moscow.

Informed sources said that Khrushchev had given Macmillan a tipoff on his latest idea for turning West Berlin into a "free city" but the British premier did not mention it in his report to the House of Commons last week.

Macmillan held exploratory talks Monday with French Premier Michel Debre. There were indications of some disagreements that need thrashing out.

Build Lives, Pupils Told In Career Day Address

"Building a life is important business and the career you choose plays a vital role in meeting tomorrow's challenges," the Rev. C. L. Harrison, Protestant chaplain at the Boys Industrial School in Lancaster, told 1,500 students at Harding High School this morning.

The clergyman's talk opened the 18th annual Career Day observance at the high school for both Harding and Marion Catholic students.

He urged his audience to "get into this business of building a life now." In this age of Sputniks and missiles, young people are showing maturity, purposefulness and sensitivity to the needs of mankind in choosing a profession, he declared.

But he warned that today's youth must be strong enough to meet tomorrow's challenges.

"Set for yourself goals that can be reached and strive to understand yourself, not only vocationally, but emotionally and spiritually as well," he emphasized.

The speaker underscored four points which young people must consider in planning for tomorrow.

First, he advised, "have a dream or inspiration about the future, and put it to work in your life."

"Secondly, do not scorn the preparation necessary for your life's work," he said.

The third point was that one

Around City Council's Table

Sixteen pieces of legislation were adopted, two were defeated and another was removed from the agenda by Marion City Council in its regular meeting Monday night in City Hall.

All members of council, President Fred Baldauf and Mrs. Alta Sheehe, clerk, were present.

Laundry's Plea Denied

Two of four resolutions approving actions of the city planning commission in granting permissive use permits for residential properties were defeated.

Arguments pertaining to one of these occupied more than an hour of the four-hour meeting.

This issue was the installation of an automatic laundry by Automagic, Inc., of Newark in a building at N. State and E. Fairground St. owned by Arthur E. Probst.

With defeat of the resolution last night, the next step for Mr. Frobst and the Newark firm will be to attempt to satisfy the objections of abutting property owners and then bring the matter before council again, said William Wiedemann, their attorney.

He said Automagic and Mr. Probst also may seek an injunction enjoining the city from closing the laundry until the issue can be brought before council again.

In discussing the case last night, Mr. Wiedemann pointed out that the laundry has been in operation since early January. At the time Mr. Probst leased the building to the laundry firm he did not know that there were zoning restrictions on it, he said. Standing for some 42 years, the building was being used as a grocery story when city zoning laws were adopted.

Mr. Wiedemann said that the nature of the neighborhood is commercial because of the other business establishments near by.

He said that Mr. Probst and Automagic have invested a total of some $52,000 in the building and equipment.

Registering opposition to the proposal was Frank Phillips, representing Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Thompson of 135 E. Fairground St. He said his clients object because of the lack of supervision of the operation, possible fire hazard, all-night operation and noise.

Robert O. Stout, representing Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Womack of 653 N. State St., said his clients object because of lint from the dryers in the establishment and the 24-hour-a-day, seven - day - a - week operation.

The issue also was discussed by various councilmen including Emmett Osterholt (R-6th), Harold Smith (D-at large), John Williams (D-2nd) and Richard Lister (R-at large).

City Solicitor Riley Hall, Mr. Probst, other representatives of Automagic and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were drawn into the discussions.

In the voting, council defeated the legislation by a 6-3 vote. Those opposed were: John Williams, John Robbins (D-1st), Ralph Williams (R-4th), Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th), Mr. Osterholt and Mr. Smith.

The other resolution defeated was to approve the action of the planning commission in granting a permissive use to Harkless, Gladys and Forney Crace for a general repair shop at the rear of 183 Jefferson St.

Mr. Robbins reported that he had a petition signed by 50 persons in the neighborhood opposing it and that the Craces had only one person's signature on a petition favoring it.

The Craces were represented by Holley Baker who said that his clients would be willing to do whatever would be reasonable to cooperate with others in the neighborhood.

Council voted the proposal down by an 8-0 vote. Thomas Fetter (D-at large) refrained from voting because his law partner, Mr. Baker, was representing the Craces.

Adopted 7-2 was a resolution approving action of the commission in granting a permissive use to Mrs. Violet E. Pickens to use the kitchen of her residence at 523 N. State St. as a pastry shop to bake pastries on order only. Opposed were Lowell Doyle (R-3rd) and Mr. Lister.

The other approving legislation, pertaining to an application of Henry Schuler Jr. and Anna Ceplova to use a vacant store building on S. Prospect St. as a cigar, newspaper and magazine stand, was adopted 9-0. The business is to be in the storeroom formerly occupied as the Kaylee Pet Shop at 543 S. Prospect St.

Assessments Okayed

Ten ordinances to levy special assessments for various street and sewer improvements were adopted unanimously.

The projects, type of improvement, total cost and cost per front foot follows:

Breen St., sanitary and storm sewer from Silver St. south 300 feet, $4,080 at $8.88 per front foot plus $34 for each house service line.

Forest Lawn Dr., sanitary sewer from terminus of Forest Lawn Blvd. sewer south 720 feet, $10,395 at $7.40 per front foot plus $31 for each house service and $380 for eight-inch laterals.

Henry St., sanitary and storm sewer from Broad St. south to south line of Lot 8262, $4,896 at $6.66 per front foot plus $50 for each service line.

Mandana Ave. and Willow St., curbs and gutters, widening, regrading and resurfacing and installation of storm drainage facilities, $23,938 at $5 per front foot for all abutting property owners except the city board of education whose front foot cost is $16.

Seminole Ave., curbs and gutters, widening, resurfacing and storm drainage facilities, $22,720 at $5 front foot for all except school board whose front foot cost is $11.56.

Oak Grove Ave., sanitary sewer from Clinton St. to Highland Ave., $8,825 at $4.15 per front foot plus $39.62 for house service lines.

Reed Ave., widen and install curb and gutter from Church St. to Indiana Ave., $9,192 at $5.77 per front foot.

Uhler Rd., reshaping, grading and paving from Mt. Vernon Ave. south 750 feet, $10,789 at $7.29 per front foot.

Underwood Ave., curbs, gutters and pavement from Woodrow Ave. south 1,250 feet, $24,822 at $10.82 per front foot plus $32.67 for water service lines.

Underwood Ave., sanitary and storm water sewer, Woodrow Ave. south to Keener Ave., $15,376 at $7.28 per front foot plus $32.85 for house service lines.

Protest Received

Copies of a letter and resolution opposing the sale of government land to the city was read by President Baldauf.

Sent by Grand Prairie Township trustees to the general services administration. The letter said the trustees understand that the city is attempting to obtain some 25 acres of the approximately 300 acres of the old Scioto Ordnance Plant property that is to be sold as surplus property.

Arguing that the city probably would use the property for a dump, the trustees said: "It would appear the city could find poorer and less valuable land for such purposes." They suggested the use of abandoned stone quarries for city dump purposes. The resolution opposing the allocation of the land by the city was signed by Donald F. Baer, Elmer A. Williams and Charles H. Francis, trustees, and Delmar H. Brewer, clerk.

Sewer Work Okayed

Appropriation of funds to provide a measure of relief from the flooding of Daffodil Dr. with each rain was approved unanimously.

The work is to be done by city crews and involves the installation of some new catch basins on S. Prospect St., Whitmore St. and Daffodil Dr., the enlarging of street openings in some other catch basins and the cleaning of some others.

When the work is done, there should be little or no flooding of Daffodil Dr. during normal rains, according to T. A. Klingler, city sanitary engineer.

But in heavy rainstorms, the street will still be flooded and will continue to flood under such conditions unless an adequate storm sewer is installed, he said previously.

The ordinance approved by council last night allocates $1,000 for materials and $1,000 for incidentals for the project.

It was in connection with this same project that council removed an item from the agenda. It was an ordinance to authorize the preparation of plans, specifications and profiles for the work, but because the work is to be done by city workers, they are not necessary.

Contract Approved

An ordinance authorizing renewal of the contract between the city and Lake Central Airlines for the use of Municipal Airport by the airline was adopted unanimously and with little comment.

The ordinance is to continue the terms of a lease agreement for an additional three years after it expires on April 15. The lease agreement originally was adopted on April 15, 1953 and in 1956 was extended to April 15 this year.

Bonds To Be Issued

An ordinance to provide for the issuance of bonds to retire notes for $45,000 previously issued for the Lincoln Park swimming pool improvements was adopted unanimously.

The ordinance calls for 45 bonds to be issued in $1,000 denominations. They are to become due and payable between 1960 and 1968. They will bear interest at 4 per cent per year.

The bonds are to be retired by using a part of the money ordinarily assigned to general fund operations. The bond payment money will be taken from the city's general fund share of real estate taxes by the county auditor.

Income from the pool will be earmarked for the cost of operation of the pool and will not be available for retirement of the bonds except by councilmanic action.

Other Business

In other business last night, council:

Agreed to a committee-of-the-whole meeting with Frank Ferneau of Ferneau, Inc., of Columbus to listen to his proposal for a parking survey of the city. He presented the proposal to the streets and alleys commitee at a meeting two weeks ago. Ralph Williams, committee chairman, said he would try to set the meeting up for the week after next.

Received a report of an audit of council records by the state bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices. The report, read by President Baldauf, was based on records of council for the period from Sept. 1, 1956, to July 31, 1958. It said the records all were in order and were properly maintained. The report noted that Miss Irene Addison (now Mrs. Robert Layman) was clerk from Sept. 1, 1956 to Dec. 31, 1957 and that Mrs. Alta Sheehe was clerk from Jan. 1, 1958 to the end of the audit period.

Received a letter from R. T. Mason, general manager of WMRN, complaining of lack of enforcement of a city law pertaining to loud mufflers on trucks and unnecessary horn blowing by motorists. Mr. Mason said if the city cannot enforce the ordinance, "it should be stricken from the books."

Heard a discussion by Mr. Lister pertaining to the use of sewer revenue fund money to pay salaries of city engineering department employes engaged in other than sanitary sewer work. Mr. Lister asked for a detailed report from T. A. Klingler on any time he and his assistants devoted to other projects while he was acting city engineer. Mr. Lister said that the sewer revenue fund will have to be reimbursed from the general fund to cover such activities.

Youth Sent to BIS

Robert Boyd Wilkins, 16, of near Kenton was sentenced to Boys Industrial School at Lancaster Monday after appearing in Juvenile Court on an auto theft charge.

Under suspended sentence to BIS on another charge, the youth was accused of stealing a car Feb. 27 owned by William O'Hara of Green Camp. A 17-year-old Marion youth, who appeared yesterday in connection with the same charge, was found not guilty.

Cecil Ratcliff Leaves as School Superintendent for Crestline

CRESTLINE — School Supt. Cecil Ratcliff Monday night submitted his resignation to the Crestline Board of Education.

Mr. Ratcliff gave no reason for the action. His move came after the board took up the matter of renewing his contract which is due to expire on Aug. 1.

Mr. Ratcliff told the board he did not wish to be considered for renewal of his contract. The board accepted the resignation.

Mr. Ratcliff was authorized to see about getting the necessary stone for the drive area east of the North School and to contact the city about hauling the stone.

The board instructed the clerk, Mrs. Robert Capell, to repay the $25,000 borrowed from the Farmers and Citizens Bank.

The board also took up the matter of school discipline and corporal punishment and requested that the board policy be changed. Under the new policy corporal punishment is to be administered only in the presence of both the pupil's teacher and school principal and on the principal's advice. It is to be administered by the principal in his office and the parents of the child are to be notified immediately of the action.

The board approved the payment of $5,531 in monthly bills.

Police Reports

Hazel Roush of 146 Park Blvd., reported to police at 9:32 p.m. Monday that two boys were pilfering her car. She said she could not be sure what, if anything, was taken.

15,220 City Residents Registered for Election

Voter registration in the city's 46 precincts stands at 15,220 today with the March 25 deadline just over two weeks away.

Elandes E. Miller, deputy clerk at the Marion County Board of Elections, said 2,403 city voters have been dropped from the registration list since the November election. Withdrawal was due to deaths, marriages, change of residence and failure to vote in the last two years.

Total registration today is 740 below the number registered at this time two years ago in the last comparable election. The March 25 registration deadline for the May 5 primary falls at 9 p.m.

The Milwaukee Braves averaged 2 hours, 24 minutes for their 9-inning games last season. It was the best time in the National League.

State Board Okays Plan For Stronger Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the Ohio Board of Education has its way, Ohio's school children will see their instruction strengthened in science, mathematics and foreign languages.

The board, at its monthly meeting Monday, approved a plan to strengthen instruction in those courses. But before the program can go into operation the U. S. Office of Education must okay it and the Ohio Legislature must appropriate funds to put it into operation.

The proposed plan would aid teachers to better prepare themselves to teach the subjects; provide scholarships; set up workshops for the respective courses; obtain equipment to better teach the coures and study the results obtained by the program.

The board adopted a resolution to offer special certificates to high school students who complete a special group of basic subjects which include English, sciences, mathematics, history and foreign languages. The resolution was made by Wayne E. Shaffer of Bryan.

It approved charters for Brooklyn Senior High School of Brooklyn City School District near Cleveland; Hoover High School in the North Canton Exempted Village School District, and Finneytown Junior High School in the Finneytown Local School District near Cincinnati.

The board set charter revocation hearings for Gambier (Knox County) for April 1; Jefferson Local (Adams County) for April 2; Byrd Local (Brown County) for April 3; Martel (Marion County) for April 8, and Plainfield (Coshocton County) for April 9.

F. B. Louys, superintendent of Trumbull County schools, was asked to submit a report on his suggested move in the proposed charter revocation of three other schools in that county. Louys asked the board to permit Mecca School to operate if it allows students from Green and Johnston schools to attend on a tuition basis.

The combined school would have 210 pupils—state law says there must be 240 students for a new high school charter to be granted.

In other action, the board:

Agreed to permit the transfer of Warren Local School District to the city of Warren.

Disapproved the transfer of part of Mahoning Local School District in Mahoning County to the Salem City School District in Columbiana County.

Adopted a resolution to create a new school district comprised of the Ravenna Local and Ravenna City School District. The new district, however, must be approved by voters in the November 1959 election.

J. I. Messenger, Native of County, Is 100 Years Old

A Marion County native, Joseph Ira Messenger, who has lived on the west coast since the 1890s, celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary on Feb. 20.

Residing in modest quarters at the Mapestead Rest Home at 3322 N. Rockhold St. in South San Gabriel, Calif., Mr. Messenger recounted a full century of living in the statement: "It's been a wonderful and most interesting life."

A party in his honor was given on the occasion of his anniversary by a nephew, Wylie Messenger, and Mrs. Messenger of Los Angles and by the Mapesteads. Also among the guests was a niece of the centenarian, Mrs. Edna Guptill of Portland, Ore., who flew to South San Gabriel for the occasion.

A niece of Mr. Messenger living in Marion is Mrs. John Montgomery of 257 N. Seffner Ave.

At the party, Mr. Messenger rose to great each guest, cut and helped serve the cake and played with the children attending. According to Mr. Messenger, physical activity has been the keynote of his life. He walks a half-mile each morning before breakfast and sweeps the guest home patio daily.

Active in the lumber and roofing business for some 30 years in Arcadia, he retired from the Pioneer Roofing Co. at the age of 83. He was in the lumber business in Oregon before settling in California.

Born on his parents' farm in Marion County on Feb. 20, 1859, he went west in the 1890s and was attracted to Alaska in 1898 by the Klondike gold rush. He says he was "just another of the also-ran bunch in that venture."

He finds relaxation with his radio and record player provided by the state which plays "recorded magazines" and keeps him informed of current interests.

Long life is nothing new in the Messenger clan. One of his brothers lived to 99½ and another passed away at 93½. His grandmother had 16 grandchildren who passed the 80-year-mark and five who reached the 90-plus bracket.

Annual Spring Rackets Right Around Corner, C. of C. Warns

Spring is just around the corner and so also is a small army of operators who are willing and able to dupe the unwary with "deals" pertaining to gardening, lawn care, furnace and roof repair among others, warns the Community Protection Service of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Calling such activities "spring rackets," the Chamber points out that "for many years, a small group of gyps has been taking advantage of the spring weather to perpetuate various hoaxes on the unsuspecting public."

Jack Lautenslager, assistant secretary of the C. of C. and head of the local protection service, emphasized that while the large majority of businessmen are completely legitimate and ethical in their operations, there is a small percentage of mostly itinerant operators who come into this area each spring.

The principal goal of these few unethical businessmen is to obtain as much money as possible from the unsuspecting homeowner, farmer or businessman and then move on.

Using a fast line of chatter and sometimes a fear technique, these operators are experts at convincing the homeowner he needs "humus" on his lawn when it doesn't, that his roof needs repairs, when it's really in good shape, or his furnace is a fire hazard.

Mr. Lautenslager said that his office already has received several complaints this year.

He reports there are certain precautions that the homeowner may take which will not in the least offend the legitimate businessman, but which will get rid of gyps.

The first thing to do is to obtain the price for the service offered, together with a list of the materials to be used, the expected completion date and references, all in writing, he said.

After these things are obtained, the homeowner may call on any number of other businessmen in the same line of service, obtain estimates from them and determine, from the written statements, which has made the best offer Mr. Lautenslager said.

"Far too often, the complainant waits until after a job has been done by one of the questionable operators before calling our office," he said. It often is too late to do anything about it by that time.

Mr. Lautenslager pointed out that his office and local businessmen cannot argue with the right of good, reliable business firms from other communities to come into Marion and offer their services or wares for sale.

But all legitimate and reliable businesses in Marion and elsewhere object strongly to the unethical, sometimes unscrupulous practices of the less than five per cent of all businesses that engage in them, he said.

Mr. Lautenslager noted that the local community protection service is supported by local businesses—the same businesses that guarantee their work and materials and maintain good, ethical practices.

111 Arrested Here In February, Most On Traffic Counts

Marion police reported 1,555 violations of city or state laws within the city limits during February. One hundred and eleven persons were arrested.

Most of the offenses reported were for parking and traffic violations.

Another large category of offenses was drunkenness and still another was larceny in which 57 separate violations were reported and 11 persons were arrested.

Police reported two robberies during the month with one arrest, 15 burglaries with 5 arrests; 3 auto thefts with 2 arrests; and 2 cases of driving while intoxicated with 2 arrests.

Of the 1,383 traffic tickets issued, 1,063 were for overtime parking at meters, 302 were for overtime parking in unmetered zones, 16 were for disregarding traffic signals and 2 were for other violations. During the month police collected $933 on traffic tickets.

They also investigated 62 traffic accidents in which 12 were injured and succeeded in the recovery of three automobiles stolen locally and valued at $2,500.

During the month there were 12 bicycles stolen valued at $411 and police recovered 12 (not the same ones in every case) valued at $400.

Other stolen property valued at $4,058 was recovered during the month and police also handled 20 complaints of wrongdoing by juveniles and issued 12 juvenile bureau warnings and took 8 others to juvenile court.

Galion Stiffens Requirements For Graduates

Extra Course Needed By High School Pupils To Receive Diploma

GALION — Requirements for graduation were increased and a new course of study adopted for Galion High School 9th through 12th grades by the Galion Board of Education at its March meeting held at the office of Supt. J. Harold Blosser Monday night.

The course of study submitted and recommended for adoption by Supt. Blosser has been approved by Glenn A. Rich, a director of the state department of education and also by the faculty and administrative council of the high school, Supt. Blosser said. It is the first major revision in several years.

"It is a result of a study conducted by teachers and principals of the junior and senior high schools and it offers a better educational opportunity to the youth of Galion," Supt. Blosser said today.

Seventeen credits will be required for graduation from Galion High School as compared with the present 16.

Next year's ninth grade class will start acquiring the additional credit and the first graduation class to be affected will be that of 1963.

New subjects elective for the ninth grade under the new course of study are personal typing, world history, general business, and Spanish I. New elective subjects for the 10th grade will be Art II, world geography, industrial arts II, Spanish II and Spanish I. Eleventh grade electives will be French, creative writing (advertising course) and world geography. Twelfth grade electives will be senior math, French II, world geography, chemistry, economics, physiology and advance composition.

Other action by the board included the employment of a bus driver, Robert Allenbach for the remainder of the school year at the rate of $120 a month. A report on school entrance age in surrounding schools was presented by Supt. Blosser. He also submitted a thorough report of all school activities for the last month. This covered the course of study, testing results, a meeting with the medical education committee, equipment and maintenance.

Crawford Soil District Okays 3 Aid Requests

BUCYRUS — The board of supervisors of the Divide Soil Conservation District approved three requests for farm conservations plans, one request for wildlife land development and nine completed plans at its March meeting, Clifford Hoover, board chairman, announced here today.

Approved requests were those of Carl E. Hatcher of Holmes Township, Gerald Bauer of Bucyrus, and Daniel Schroeder of Jefferson Township, for conservation plans and Harry C. Cole for wildlife land development.

Plans completed with the assistance of Robert Mills, U.S. Soil Conservationist, were for Clarence Dunlap, Wayne Harer, Paul and V. W. Cahill, Dr. Theodore D. Sawyer, Roy McCullough, Paul Kuehnle and Anthony Del. In some instances, more than one plan was approved for a landowner.

Glenn Morris, Soil Conservation Service conservationist, reported considerable interest among Crawford County residents in the Sandusky River Watershed in the provisions of the watershed protection and flood prevention act, which enables local, state and federal groups to cooperate in small watershed projects.

According to Morris, watersheds are limited to 250,000 acres but the tributary streams of the Sandusky River would qualify if local residents were willing to initiate the project.

The board expressed interest in a joint meeting Sandusky, Seneca and Wyandot County Soil Conservation District Boards to discuss the small watershed possibilities of the river.

Radio and Television

By MARIE TORRE

The Martins: Mary and Dean

LOS ANGELES

Television may be the entertainment medium with the mostest in the year '59, but, interestingly and ironically, it remains the least desirable of working areas to the show business nobility.

Marie Torre

The bigger the star, the smaller the TV agenda, and if two examples suffice, there are the cases of a couple of unrelated performers named Martin — Dean and Mary. In their design for professional contentment, television is fitted in only occasionally.

Miss Martin, out of view more than a year, is preparing to recreate highlights from her recent concert tour for both a matinee and evening performance on NBC Easter Day.

AFTER THAT, her absence from television probably will run into years because she's going into a Rodgers and Hammerstein musical in October, and their shows, as we all know, always are lingering affairs.

It would be futile at this time, or any other time, for network interests to attempt to tie up her future services on a contractual basis.

"I'm afraid," she remarks, "I'm a free-lancer at heart. I once had an NBC contract that called for a certain number of appearances over a period of years, and when the time came to do any of them, there was always the problem of what to do.

"That can lead to embarrassment all around. I prefer to perform on TV when something comes along that fires my enthusiasm. I don't want to work for the sake of working, if you know what I mean."

DEAN MARTIN'S outlook is equally devoid of TV stimulation. His NBC contract calls for two appearances a year, and since he's been winning new acclaim as a dramatic actor in movies, he's been urged by network officials to give them more of his time.

"They'll never get me to agree to more than two shows a year," Martin emphatically declared.

"What everybody seems to forget is that in order to do two shows a year, you have to make six appearances in all because of those swap arrangments. If Bing Crosby comes on my show, then I have to make an appearance for him.

"No, no," he said, "I like things the way they are. With my movie career going as well as it is, I have all I can do to meet the television schedule, and it's the pictures that give me real excitement.

"I don't want to be a leading man, I don't care where my name appears on the marquee. I just want the parts to be good."

While Martin's television output is kept at a minimum, he has assignments in three upcoming major motion pictures. Don't the producers of TV ever wonder why their medium is a sometime thing to those in search of perfection?

JOHN DALY, facing repeated rumors about his withdrawal from administrative news duties at ABC to concentrate on performing, categorically denies them. "I have no plans in that line," says Daly. "When I'm prepared to give up my administrative duties, I will probably ask for a general release from ABC."...

For the first time in two seasons "Gunsmoke" was tossed off the top Nielsen position, and it's another Western that did it — "Wagon Train." The February Nielsen report generally reflects a still-healthy clime for sagebrush dramas. Seven of the top 10 listings went to Westerns and, even more discouraging, only one of them was a live show, Tennessee Ernie Ford's, who came in 10th...

Audrey Meadows, without comedy partner since Jackie Gleason put aside "Honeymooners" ideas, becomes Sid Caesar's vis-a-vis in the situation comedy series he's planning for "Screen Gems."....

George Gobel, a free agent since severing ties with NBC, is turning a receptive ear to bids from CBS and ABC for next season.

ESTHER WILLIAMS exercised a woman's prerogative and changed her mind about going ahead with her TV series that was to be done at 20th Century-Fox.

Fickleness, however, had nothing to do with it. When the contract was drawn, according to Miss Williams, the ingenuity and fresh approach that had been proposed were missing.

"They're still acting like a big picture studio," she says, "little knowing or caring that flexibility is the key to TV. Their terms were so rigid that I would have been hampered in everything I wanted to do."

The format she proposes is in the nature of an anthology in which she would be hostess and also play three continuing characters.

She would swim, act and rotate between comedy and drama. She'd like all TV offices to know that she's ready, willing and able to deliver.

Two Held in Miami in Alleged Installment Plan Murder Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 41-year-old woman and a young preacher were arrested Monday after a detective said he posed as a professional killer in an alleged plot against the woman's husband.

Beatrice Gurley, mother of three grown children, and John A. Walker, 25, the preacher, were booked for investigation of conspiracy to murder Hugh Ernest Gurley, 45.

Detective Jack Metcalf, who said he played the killer-for-hire, arrested Mrs. Gurley. He said she gave him $100 as a down payment on the $1,000 deal to kill her husband.

The alleged installment-plan murder drama was played out in the preacher's car while a hidden tape recorder and motion picture camera recorded the affair, Metcalf said.

Metcalf said Mrs. Gurley signed a statement in which she said she wanted to hire some one to kill her husband. Walker denied any connection with the alleged plot.

Mrs. Gurley was quoted as saying she wanted her husband killed so she could get $30,000 in insurance and because he had been mean to her children by a previous marriage.

Later, Mrs. Gurley said her husband had little insurance and she wanted him killed because he wouldn't let her go to church with Walker, who shared the Gurley home, Metcalf said.

Gurley said that Mrs. Gurley and Walker attended church and prayer meetings several times a week and that Walker's presence in the home had caused arguments.

Police Put End to Boys' 2-Day Joyriding Spree

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — Van Wert police arrested two boys, 14 and 16, Monday to put an end to a two-day, four-car joy-riding spree.

Officers said the pair, starting Sunday night, stole cars in Payne, Continental, Lima and Leipsic.

The boys were taken to the Putnam County Jail at Ottawa where Sheriff Arnold Potts observed: "People who leave their keys in cars should also provide enough gas that the boys wouldn't have to steal so many."

Annexation Vote Delay May Help

The postponement of the vote on the annexation of a portion of Marion Township from May until November may very well be a blessing in disguise.

The delay was necessitated by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's ruling Monday that the issue may not be submitted to the Marion Township residents in the May primary.

The township has no primary and the secretary ruled no special election may be set up for balloting on annexation.

This newspaper favors, in principle, the annexation of Marion Township as a desirable step in the long-range improvement of this community.

Residential and industrial growth is outward, and neither the city nor the suburban areas can develop as well separately as they can together.

Nevertheless, from a purely realistic viewpoint, we must admit the chances of the annexation proposal for passage in the May primary were slim.

The situation is beclouded by too many uncertainties right now to make annexation clearly attractive to a majority of township residents.

By November many of the pieces of the puzzle may have fallen into place. A move probably will have been made by then on a city income tax, which if enacted would affect all those township residents working in Marion. Such action might spur their interest in annexation, since it would seem natural they might want to have an active role in governing the city to which they would be paying tax money.

If the income tax is approved the first tangible results probably will be major repair of city streets.

It's entirely possible that the storm sewer project also could be affected favorably by the income tax.

Again, state action on the one-way street program should be known by late spring, and actual construction on it conceivably could start by early fall.

These developments, and others, could combine to make annexation a great deal more attractive to Marion Township residents in November than at present.

The postponement gives city officials one more excellent reason to move ahead with a comprehensive community improvement program.

Best Service—Lowest Cost

Among many items that appear destined for close study during the DiSalle administration is the rate-making base for Ohio's public utilities.

Representatives of some of the cities, led by Cleveland's able law director, contend that Ohio's present base gives the utilities credit for inflated values and, therefore, rates are higher than are needed to give the utility stockholders a fair return on their investment.

The utilities counter with the argument that Ohio's rate base is fair and, in fact, their rates on the whole are lower than rates in other surrounding states and their service is better.

Since utilities must be monopolies to be efficient, their service and rates are regulated by the state. The state recognizes that they must have rates that will give a fair return on their investment in order to attract investment capital to continue expanding, keeping pace and serving the public.

In other words, the utilities must be permitted to take in enough money to pay their operating costs and lay aside some for expansion and improvement to meet the public's demands for service.

SINCE 1913, Ohio has based its utility rates on a formula of "reconstruction cost new, less depreciation." This is the now-famous "RCN" formula. It values plant and equipment not at what it actually cost to build, say, two decades ago, but at what it would cost to build today, less a reasonable amount for depreciation.

The cities which seek a change in the rate base formula contend it is too difficult to determine what is reconstruction cost new, less depreciation, for the millions of items that make up a utility's total plant and equipment. They contend they do not have the financial resources to make a proper determination of what RCN actually should be and thus they are forced too often to accept rates which they think might be higher than they should be.

The utilities, on the other hand, contend that the present formula is best, despite the fact that most other states do not use it. They contend that it enables them to make a sufficient profit to pay a fair dividend to their stockholders and attract the new investment money from the public that they need for expansion. They argue that a less advantageous formula would raise the cost of borrowing money and therefore result in higher operating costs and higher rates.

Members of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio are split. Two of them favor the present formula, one is adamantly opposed.

SOMEWHERE IN BETWEEN these two arguments — the cities vs. the utilities—the answer probably lies. That is what Gov. DiSalle wants to find out.

To that end, he had a conference last week with representatives of the cities and the utilities to hear their arguments. Both continued to be wide apart and there was no basis for agreement, and the governor fears no compromise is possible.

He will have to take it from there if he intends to pursue the matter.

At least the governor is thinking right when he says:

"I realize the municipalities are the underdogs, but I don't think we can swing the balance to the point of hurting the possibility of risk capital. There is a point where reasonable people can agree and I think it can be reached. I am interested in a program that will stimulate the economic and industrial development of this state."

The fair-minded people of Ohio will agree with the governor. They want the best service, and they want to encourage the utilities to keep on providing it, at the lowest rates that can do the job.

Fred Stone Outlived His Era

Fred Stone's death in Hollywood at the age of 85 has fanned the embers of interest in his great show-business career. Many who recall his showmanship as they shared it with him as members of his audiences in towns and cities all over the country had assumed he must have died years ago with the theater of his era.

He came into fame in 1903 when he played the Scarecrow in "The Wizard of Oz." In 1906, he began his triumph in "The Red Mill," which was followed with great performances in "The Old Town," "The Lady of the Slipper" and "Chin-Chin," all before World War I. His last touring show was a revival of "Lightnin'" in 1938. He closed his career in 1945 in a revival of "You Can't Take It With You."

Stone was a show-business genius. But he was the beneficiary of an era in which he and his contemporaries were privileged to appear in person before audiences in all parts of the country. Their fame and their following were due to "exposure" to theatergoers, in much the same way that recording artists now are catapulted into success by "exposure" on TV shows and phonograph recordings.

Today, exorbitant costs have destroyed the traveling show and blighted the stage even on Broadway. A current project to put plays into production in the hinterlands with Ford Foundation subsidies tells the story. The stage is perilously close to the point where it must be subsidized to survive, as in fact it survives in New York City largely because its ticket prices are subsidized by out-of-town money, much of it tax-deductible under income tax laws.

Theatrical enterprise survives only because the people who make their living from it have not yet discovered how to give the coup de grace to the goose that lays their golden eggs. But they keep trying. By regarding the stage as a business to be exploited for personal gain, instead of an art to be nurtured for the public good, they have whittled it to the disappearing point.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Teen-agers are getting blasted these days, But there's something to be said for them. From kindergarten days up they behold a panorama of luxury, frivolity, lawlessness and screball behavior "in color." Juvenile delinquency wasn't heard of in the old days but the kids had better examples. Many big successes and celebrities of today are not Horatio Algers and Frank Merriwells but racketeers, playboys, Hollywood home-busters, mate-snatchers and multiple-marriage characters.

The teen-agers know more about Frank Costello, Jimmy Hoffa and Al Capone than Abe Lincoln, George Washington and Ben Franklin. They give a puzzled look when asked about Dr. Salk, discoverer of a polio cure. Dr. Schweitzer who has spent his life among the poor and sick, or Marie Curie of the radium family but they know all about Frankie Sinatra, Jimmy Cagney, Liz Taylor, Rossellini and the Gabor sisters.

THEY ARE NOT ALLOWED to say a prayer in public schools and don't know words of the "Star Spangled Banner," but "Tom Dooley," the ballad of a killer about to be hanged, is dished out to them day and night.

A moppet on the way to school is apt to see a shooting, observe the dead victim of a hit-and-run driver during noon recess and witness a bank stickup on the way home.

He's standing on the corner watching all the saddists go by. His movies feature brutal sluggings of helpless opponents. The airwaves bring violent death into his living room. He reads of U.S. congressmen boosting their own pay and putting relatives on the payroll at big money. He has notorious bums in luxury sedans pointed out to him.

THE AMERICAN scene of their fathers and grandpops was dominated by hard-working people whose feet ached from walking. The kid of yesterday saw nothing in the daily scene to make him think it paid to be indolent, extravagant or crooked.

He got his heroes and heroines from schoolbooks and infrequent visits to the Opry House to see "Hearts of Oak." His glamor gal was the bareback rider seen once every summer in the circus.

"Gangster" was an unknown word. A racketeer was supposed to be a tennis player. Hoodlums didn't defy the U.S. Senate, district attorneys and courts. Nobody being taken away in the pokey wagon for a foul crime grinned at spectators.

'Wait'll We Hit That May 27th Curve . . .'

Political Payrolls

By David Lawrence

Integrity transcends every other issue with the American people—they resent any misuse of their money by public officials and usually defeat at the polls any candidate who is mixed up with what they believe to be a public scandal.

Lawrence

This past week the Democratic party, which is in control of Congress, got a black eye with the American people. Stories telling how newly elected members of Congress put their relatives on the public payroll, irrespective of their qualifications, were spread on many front pages from coast to coast. One member rented the front porch of his own house back home and charged the government for it.

This same Democratic majority in Congress frowned on Sherman Adams because he accepted a gift of hotel lodgings and a vicuna coat —not paid for by any public funds —even though he did no more than write routine letters of inquiry to governmental agencies about the cases of the donor in question.

THERE ARE ABUSES which approach scandal in the present system. A member of Congress can hire as temporary aides for $60 or $75 a month any of his constituents for the period just before election. This comes out of his office allowance for personnel based on the population of his district or state.

This means that some members could put on as many as 150 personal workers at government expense during a campaign.

How many members did this in the last campaign? The public has a right to know. Wasn't this, after all, a campaign contribution made with public money?

Putting relatives on the payroll is an old custom. In some instances the employes have been qualified, as in the case of wives who had previously served in a secretarial capacity. But who is to be the judge? Who represents the public interest in deciding those cases on their merits?

Basically, the American people are sensitive to scandal in public office. The "scandals" during the Truman administration helped to defeat the Democrats in 1952. In recent months the Democrats have been trying to pin the "corruption" label on the Republicans by emphasizing the Sherman Adams episode, though there has never been uncovered the slightest proof of corruption on his part. He himself admitted he had been "imprudent" because he had not looked a gift horse in the mouth.

BUT IN THE recent cases the evidence is plain enough to see. Some members of Congress have put relatives on the payroll as office assistants at salaries ranging from $6,000 to $11,000 a year.

Do these employed give full time to their work? How much of this money is a gift of public funds? To whom should members of Congress be accountable on such things?

The leaders of the Democratic party who are so quick to denounce any "conflict of interest" on the part of officials in the executive branch of the government have done nothing to ferret out the facts about the use of public funds for campaign purposes when temporary employes in large numbers are put on the payroll of members of Congress.

An inquiry by Congress into its own household affairs has long been overdue. Unless soon begun, the cry will become nationwide that people in glass houses shouldn't throw stones and Congress will be handicapped as it faces its duty to investigate any "conflict of interest" cases happening outside as well as inside congressional offices.

Too Expensive

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Why don't more millionaires marry poor but honest working girls?

If you go into a drugstore in any business office area in America during a coffee break, you will find half a dozen AWOL secretaries and stenographers debating.

HAL BOYLE

"Why can't I find a tall, dark, handsome millionaire who will marry me and take me out of this world of work and worry?" is the topic.

Every time one of these female desk jockeys snags her nylon hose, or the boss bawls her out because her typewriter can't spell she asks herself, "Why can't I find me a nice tall, dark, handsome millionaire?"

SHE NEVER asks for a tall, dark, handsome plumber or bus driver. She won't even settle for a short blonde, balding, pot-bellied millionaire.

While this wish can be dismissed as a hopeless dream in most cases, it isn't altogether an idle dream with many office girls. They scrimp and save to go on expensive cruises or to take vacation trips to Mexico or the Bahamas—places where they fondly imagine every palm and pine tree shades a love-hungry millionaire.

And whom do they meet? Vacationing plumbers and bus drivers most of whom, alas, have brought their wives. And the girls come home bitter—and one year nearer to being old maids.

NOT LONG ago I met a young, tall, dark, handsome millionaire bachelor. I asked him why he didn't marry some poor but honest working girl — a girl desperately eager to make him happy.

"I'd be crazy, too," he replied crisply. "The poor but honest working girl you describe is suffering from a Cinderella psychosis. She isn't looking for a husband. She's looking for a helping hand.

"She doesn't have a romantic urge. She just has an urge to acquire some valuable male real estate without even putting up a real down payment. She wants something for nothing."

"But wouldn't a girl like that make a good thrifty wife?" I asked.

The man gave a hollow laugh. "Why, a girl like that would have me broke in two years," he said. "She'd expect an apartment on Park Ave., a winter home at Palm Beach, and a summer place on Long Island.

"She'd want diamonds, furs, servants, and a new Rolls-Royce every year. She'd expect a trip to Europe every year, too.

WORKING GIRLS have big ideas about how millionaires live, but their ideas are a generation behind the times. A millionaire doesn't live that way anymore — at least guys with only one million, like me. We don't have that kind of dough."

Well, if you are a poor but honest working girl, there is the true reason you can't find a tall, dark, handsome millionaire to marry you.

He'd like to — but he simply can't afford to. You are too expensive for his pocketbook.

Talk About the Dollar

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This would have been a pretty dull season in Washington if it hadn't been for the dollar sign. It has given Democrats and Republicans a lot to talk about.

Actual legislation passed by Congress so far could be stuck in one eye without making you blink. Things will pick up after the Easter vacation. Meanwhile, budget balancing has provided a lively conversational topic.

Balance the budget, says President Eisenhower, dedicating himself to economy in 1959. It's the way to prevent inflation, he says. And since inflation means you can buy less with a buck, his stand has pretty wide appeal.

NOBODY KNOWS that better than the Democrats. They know what it could mean in the 1960 elections if they defied Eisenhower too much, voted a lot more money than he asked, and let inflation milk a few more pennies out of the dollar.

So while the Democrats keep talking about how Eisenhower is skimping too much and how the country needs more than he proposed, they're still edgy about leaving themselves open to the Republican charge of being big spenders.

It is easy to see how this can provide plenty of conversation, and it has.

MEANWHILE, everybody's dancing on a hair. Eisenhower in his budget provided only a hairline margin between balancing the budget and going in the red. Even that margin depends on some unlikely new taxes and a sharp increase in revenue from other taxes already on the law books. If it works out the way he figured, it will be one of the best juggling acts in history.

Eisenhower called for spending no more than 77 billion dollars, in itself a record for peacetime budgets, and estimated that when the government got through deducting the 77 billion from all the revenue it took in, it would have 70 million dollars left over.

But the Democrats look at the 4,700,000 people unemployed and want to extend the special unemployment pay Congress voted last year for the jobless. This would cost another 400 millions, they figure.

SINCE EISENHOWER didn't include this in his budget, the 400 million would upset the balance, knock spending into the red, and add to the deficit carried over from the current year. But that's not all.

The Democrats are working on housing, airport aid, help for depressed areas, and other legislation that would cost more than Eisenhower asked.

The Democrats also express unhappiness about the money he asked for defense and what looks like a continuing gap in missiles between this country and the Soviet Union. They are making sounds about more money for defense.

THE SOVIET demand that the Allies get their troops out of Berlin, and the Allies' determination so far that they'll do no such thing, has created a sense of crisis coming up.

So it's no wonder Democratic leaders of Congress last week reportedly asked Eisenhower — after he briefed them on Berlin— if he didn't need beefed up defense. Beefing, of course, costs money.

Eisenhower reportedly said no, that things were all right.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev could make everybody a little happier, and take some of the heat off the American dollar, if he'd just soften up on Berlin and let the crisis melt away.

Decision Already Made

By Truman Twill

It should be the fond hope of every Yankee Doodle patriot that the debate in Congress over a national flower should be never-ending.

This is too big a country to have a national flower in the first place. In the second place, if the debaters ever get tired of arguing and reach a decision, they will do irreparable harm to each of us with a national flower of his own.

They will alienate our affections.

Let them keep on doing what they are doing now — blowse off on the subject in Congress to fill in time while important decisions are pending. But the republic should be spared a showdown, which would be wrong-headed, ill-advised, shortsighted and divisive.

Some of the "flowers" they are talking about are not even flowers. They have mentioned corn tassels and even grass. They have talked about roses and carnations, which are beautiful in themselves but have no natural connection with America.

If there were to be named a national flower — a truly national flower — it would have to be the zinnia, which was growing on this continent before outsiders arrived and will be flourishing when they have departed, if they insist on exterminating themselves.

The zinnia typifies everything that is good about genus Americanus. It adapts itself to new environments. It flourishes in all its forms, from the simplest to the most complex.

It is esteemed in all its colors and forms — esteemed for not only its beauty but its hardihood. Nothing can discourage it from growing, and as long as it has a ghost of a chance it blooms.

It is impervious to adversity. Insect pests give up in despair. It grows in hot and chilly climates, in drouth and in rain. It can be picked and displayed, or it can be admired where it grew in the first place.

It can put on the airs of an aristocrat or be a commoner, with equal dignity. Its beauty is surpassing whether it's a pure strain or a hybrid.

When it is taken abroad, it adapts itself to new circumstances and becomes a credit to the land of its origin.

No one ever accused it of being a weed, yet it is as hardy as any weed and can outgrow any weed if given an even start. No one has to pamper it, apologize for it, or make concessions to it.

For half a buck a patriot can have a flower garden full of zinnias. The seeds are full of determination.

There are tiny zinnias, like the ones that grew thousands of years ago in Mexico. There are zinnias three feet tall. There are even zinnias that don't look like zinnias but like chrysanthemums and dahlias.

But even so, there should not be a national flower designated, because there is no need to designate one particular flower as more important than all other flowers.

That already has been done by nature. Like all the important decisions that Congress goes through the motions of making, the decision about the zinnia has been made in advance by events.

It IS the national flower. Nature made it so. All that remains to be done is to ratify the decision.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Duffey of S. Prospect St. received a letter from their son, Harry L. Duffey, who was stationed with a guard and fatigue detail at St. Maxient, France, telling of a visit to Bordeaux where he was welcomed at the YMCA and had an American meal of ham and eggs. He commented on the rainy, "not very cold" winter and said he would be glad to get back to this country because his pay of $11 a month did "not go far when everything costs three prices."

In Paris the question of writing the Monroe Doctrine into the League of Nations as suggested in certain quarters of this country was causing concern. Critics said that if this was done it would open the way for others to insert measures which might operate in a disastrous way toward the U.S.

20 YEARS AGO — The first of a series of "Welcome Neighbor" weekends was launched and Marion merchants were greeting Union County residents who were visiting the city.

President Roosevelt said his original relief estimates of early January still held good. About 850,000 needy persons were on the WPA waiting lists throughout the country.

10 YEARS AGO—Announcement was made of another phase in the plans of the American Legion post to give Marion legionnaires and veterans a community service in providing a Garden of Honor tract in a newly acquired part of Chapel Heights Memory Gardens. In charge was William E. Payette, Legion memorial chairman.

Children of the Bible

ABSALOM

"But in all Israel, there was none to be so much praised as Absalom for his beauty: from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him."

—II Samuel 14:25

Absalom, the son of David, King of Israel, had many of the qualities that should have made him one of the great men of history. He was handsome, intelligent, and strong.

But he brought grief to his father who loved him deeply.

Of Absalom's childhood, the Bible gives us only a hint. It appears that he was David's favorite son. For this reason he was no doubt over-indulged and spoiled by too much affection.

Thus, as he grew up, his disposition began to show evil signs of violence and deceit.

But it was always Absalom the beautiful child that remained in David's memory. When Absalom fled after killing his brother Amnon, we can imagine David's thoughts in many a twilight:

"Do you remember, Absalom my son, how in the soft summer evenings now forever gone, we walked together in the garden? You loved the gray-winged moths, and when I lifted you, you begged, 'O let me fly like them!'

"Absalom, my son, we walked through the ripening wheat. And I spoke the same thoughts that had enlightened Abraham: the Will of God is gentle. His Will is love; and man can share His love, but only through service, not taken in the manner of beasts.

"You listened, my son, but you did not hear. I spoke of my plan for a Temple, designed as a symbol and a reminder to man that the real temple to God is man himself. That a man lives his belief; thus he worships God. There is no other worship.

"But your mind was upon the cry of a wild bird. And you turned away when I said: 'I have slain in this world where to slay is to survive. But there was no evil in my purpose. Let the way of His provision be shown unto you, my son. Choose the way of Life, not of death.'

"You paused then, and gave a little thought to this. But you were not warned by it.

"O Absalom, my son, my son!"

Harry Wendell Medley, 38, of Caledonia, arrested by sheriff's deputies Saturday morning in Caledonia and charged with "cutting with intent to wound," pleaded not guilty to the charge in Municipal Court Monday morning and is being held in the county jail in lieu of $3,000 bond.

Acting judge Paul G. Simpson set March 17 as the date for a hearing of the case.

Medley was picked up after he was involved in a struggle with Arven E. Hunt, also of Caledonia, who went to the aid of a girl Medley was allegedly beating up in the village square. Hunt was stabbed in the right kidney area and slashed behind the left ear for his trouble but his injuries did not require hospitalization.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: Everyone who writes to you thinks his problem is worse than anyone else's. I KNOW mine is! I would kill myself if I didn't have a small child who needs me. Please give me some advice right away.

My husband and I have been married five years. He's a wonderful man, but very quiet and the stay-at-home type.

Don't ask me how it happened, but his younger brother (also married) suddenly fell for me. We met secretly and I must admit it was very exciting. It lasted three months. We both decided there was no future in it and to cut it out before we got caught.

Now I find I am pregnant. This child COULD belong to my husband but chances are good it's his brother's. The guilt is driving me crazy. My brother-in-law says to keep quiet or I'll wreck his marriage as well as my own.

He says since we both come back to our senses and the affair is finished, I'd be foolish to bring it out into the open.

Don't preach, Ann. I've learned my lesson. What I need now is advice.—RAGGED EDGE.

Dear Ragged Edge: I can say nothing to you that you haven't already said to yourself at least five dozen times, so here's the straight advice: .. .. ..

Legally, your husband is the baby's father. Since the affair is finished, don't look back—or think back. ..

You'll pay the Big Price for this out-of-bounds fling. The uncertainty will be with you forever. But don't take a chance on destroying two marriages and breaking hearts all around you just to relieve your guilt.

Uncle Settled It

Dear Ann: I chuckled when I read Paddy's letter. She was the young girl who wanted to wear slacks when bicycling, boating and so on. Her father said slacks were not proper attire for ladies. She wanted help from you.

This took me back almost half a century when gym bloomers were becoming the rage for girls' basketball teams. My mother was dead set against my wearing gym bloomers. She said girls should wear skirts in public. I felt like a freak but she was immovable.

One night a respected family friend dropped in. We were arguing this question (as usual) and my mother thought since he was such a proper gentleman surely he'd agree with her and the matter would be closed for all time. So she asked Uncle Dan what he thought of young ladies wearing "those horrible gym bloomers."

He said, "I don't like them at all. When a girl in skirts used to fall down during a game it was a great deal more interesting for the spectators!"

Three on Honeymoon

Dear Ann: I'm going to be married in a few months. My fiance has told me his mother must live with us as she is a widow and besides himself there is just his married sister.

I like his mother and feel she will not be difficult to live with. Jim is a wonderful fellow and assures me it will work out well.

The question is this: Would I be starting off on the wrong foot if I asked Jim, to discuss with his sister the possibility of inviting his mother to stay with her for the first few weeks of our marriage? We can't afford much of a honeymoon and the idea of starting married life with a third party in the house disturbs me.—MONICA

Dear Monica: It would not be unreasonable for Jim to suggest to his sister that she invite Mom to spend a month with her while you two love-birds become settled in your nest. His mother probably will be more relaxed, too. It's a fine idea. ..

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GIVE and TAKE

Where do new ideas that improve products or services come from?

AT NATIONWIDE, many of them come from our policyholders. While manufacturers and raw material producers look to their research laboratories for most of their new ideas, we go back to our customers for new directions.

Through Nationwide's unique Policyholder Participation program, we learn in frank "give and take" sessions exactly what policyholders think. At both hometown and Columbus home office meetings, our policyholders discuss subjects ranging from how their companies can better serve them, to key issues of our time. Out of these sessions come the new ideas that enable us to better serve policyholder needs.

More than any other single thing, we think this pioneering idea among insurance companies has accounted for Nationwide's staying out in front with new services, new economies, new modernized policies.

If you'd like to have a real voice in your insurance affairs . . . plus top quality coverage at all times . . . discuss the details with your neighborhood Nationwide man today.

Cincinnati Sinks St. Louis, Wins Conference Title

Decision Clinches Spot in NCAA Play

CINCINNATI (AP) — A tidal wave of bellowing, happy fans burst out of the stands and swallowed up the University of Cincinnati's victorious basketball players on the floor.

The fan outburst came just seconds after the final gun Monday night that sealed a 66-59 Bearcat victory over St. Louis and clinched the Missouri Valley Conference Crown for Cincinnati for the second straight year.

And it gave the Bearcats a berth in the NCAA post-season tournament starting Friday.

Mendenhall Mobbed

The first player hoisted was grinning Mike Mendenhall, team co-captain who directed a cool, canny defensive action in the last seven minutes of the game after the team's All-America scoring ace, Oscar Robertson, fouled out.

Mendenhall was ruled ineligible for post-season tournament play because he played a few minutes of the 1955-1956 season.

But he stood out like a beacon in his final game as a collegian last night, scoring 13 points, snaring eight rebounds and making himself useful in playmaking.

And with the Billikens pressing hard to overtake Cincinnati, he scored the last two points and five of Cincinnati's last 12 points helping keep the lead out of St. Louis reach.

Robertson, highest scoring collegian in the country again this season with a 33.6 point game average, fired in 17 points in the first half helping set up a 37-29 Cincinnati halftime lead.

Fouls Out First Time

But because of superior Billiken height, he was sent in close to the basket time and again to fight for rebounds. He got 10 of them, but he also picked up four first half fouls. And after scoring five more points in the second half, he added his fifth personal foul with 7:49 minutes to go. It was the first time he has fouled out in regulation playing time as a collegian.

If St. Louis had won Cincinnati would have shared the conference crown with Bradley's Braves. A playoff would have been needed to decide which team goes to the NCAA tournament.

Collins Grabs New Orleans' Top Golf Prize

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A newly found putting touch and a bagful of confidence were all the tools bashing Bill Collins needed to win the $20,000 New Orleans Open Golf championship and establish himself as a force to be considered on the tournament trail.

The easy-going Collins came in with a two-under-par 70 in Monday's final round. His distance shooting and delicate touch on the greens gave him a four-round total of 280, three strokes better than Jackie Burke Jr. and Tom Nieporte, who tied for second.

The tournament was the first major victory for Collins, 30, a 230-pound former Marine who learned the game as a caddy in his native Baltimore, Md. He won only $1,400 in prize money in earlier tournaments, but hit the jackpot for $5,300 Monday.

He collected $2,800 for leading the field home, assured himself of another $1,000 by qualifying for the tournament of champions at Las Vegas, Nev., and the firm he represents chipped in with another $1,500.

Collins was one stroke behind California's Gene Littler as the final round opened but many thought he would bend to the pressure of such high atmosphere. When the smoke cleared, it was the big-money winning Littler who came apart.

Burke, the Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., son of a golf pro, came in with a 67 for the day's best round to jump into the tie for runner-up. The placid Nieporte, plays out of Bronxville, N.Y., registered his best showing of the tour, splitting $3,300 with Burke.

Littler, a heavy favorite after his record 64 on the 6,700 yard City Park course Saturday, came apart with a billowing 75 in the final round and finished with 284.

-Yonkers Raceway in New York was refurbished for the 1958 season at a cost of $18,500,000.

Former Cleveland Ace Not Bitter

Hegan Makes Transformation to NL

By ED NICHOLS
Brush-Moore Special Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. — You couldn't blame Jim Hegan if he were bitter about the cold machinations of baseball—exiling him to Philadelphia after 15 years in the American League.

An unforgettable experience it was for him last season. After catching half a Sunday double header for the Tigers, he was told of being sold to the Phillies.

HEGAN PACKED his duds and started driving.

"I got into Cleveland around 3:45 a.m.," said Jim. "I slept a little, then caught a plane for Philadelphia. Didn't arrive until 5 p.m., and I went direct to Connie Mack Stadium.

"Eddie Sawyer gave me a uniform, and told me I was catching the 6 o'clock game. What a 24 hours that was!"

It was a sudden transformation for a man who has been accustomed to a steady life. Until Frank Lane shipped Hegan to the Tigers in February 1958, Hegan seemed a more solid fixture in Cleveland than Paul Brown. Since 1941 he had been in a Cleveland uniform.

HERE'S A COOL, methodical man who provided the brains for the best pitching staff in the majors — Feller, Wynn, Lemon, Garcia, Narleski and Mossi.

"Yeah, it was a rough year for me, 1958," said Hegan, who was shifted about the map like a letter with a wrong address.

"My wife and daughters lived at our place in Lynn, Mass. My son, Mike, played American Legion baseball in Cleveland. No, he doesn't catch. He's a left-handed first baseman. Hope he'll be a better hitter than his dad."

If they eliminated the law that the catchers must take a regular turn at bat, Hegan would have been compared with Bill Dickey, Mickey Cochrane, Gabby Harnett and other greats.

He never has hit over .250.

"I played against the guy a long time," says another ex-American Leaguer, Dave Philley, "and I was with him at Cleveland. He's the best catcher I've ever seen. If he could have hit, he would be in the Hall of Fame."

Hegan himself is mildly self-depreciating about his failure to hit. His brilliant craftsmanship with the mitt and quarterbacking pitchers has compensated.

Looking back down the years from the pinnacle of 38 years, he can recall some fine moments—games, the no-hitters he caught for Don Black, Bob Lemon and Bob Feller. Hegan's homer decided the one for Feller.

Despite his relatively low batting average, he often came through in the clutch.

HEGAN IS PLENTY spry for 38. He has been fortunate in escaping the usual catcher's curse—injuries.

"I figure I can stay in the game awhile longer," explained Jim. "I had a business in Cleveland with Otto Graham but we folded it up. This is my only business now."

Hegan looked around the clubhouse and noticed his name was freshly painted on a locker.

"Gee! it seems strange that this locker doesn't have 'Indians' on it. I's rough leaving a league where you knew everyone."

THEN THERE was a curious demonstration of how baseball can twist the years and miles.

Ray Semproch, young right hander, asked Hegan, "You still living in Cleveland?"

"No. Why do you ask," Jim replied, sort of surprised.

"I'm from Independence," said Ray, who grew up on the Cleveland sandlots. "I used to go to the ball park every chance I had. I saw you catch a lot."

Independence is a Cleveland suburb.

Later Hegan shook his head over the incident.

"The kid used to see me play, and now I'm catching him. Makes you feel ancient."

Could Be Leader

Reds' Smith Impressed By Work of Newcombe

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Burly Don Newcombe remembers the great days of 1956 when he won 27 games. He thinks he can do a similar job this season for Cincinnati's Reds.

The idea has made a big impression on Manager Mayo Smith.

"Just think what a rejuvenated Newcombe would mean to this club," he said Monday. "He'd give us the pitching leader we need to become a solid pennant contender.

"If he continues to improve, and I'm confident that he will barring any arm miseries, he could very easily be that big guy."

He had lost six straight last year for the Dodgers before he was traded to Cincinnati. He finished the season with a 7-13 record.

Big Newk said arm miseries from a pulled back muscle were his biggest problem last year, but he conquered them before the season was over.

Newk said his arm hasn't bothered him at spring training, "but I have my fingers crossed."

And he stubbornly makes no predictions. "Just say I'll try to win as many as possible. This is a better outfit to work for than the Dodgers."

Josh Powell looks like a coming basketball star at Georgia Tech. In his first game as a freshman he tallied 30 points.

NCAA Play Opens With Five Games

By The Associated Press

The NCAA, with all 23 brackets filled, gets down to the business of picking its 1959 major college basketball champion tonight with a tripleheader in New York and two games at Lexington, Ky.

The field was completed Monday night when Cincinnati qualified as the Missouri Valley Conference representative and New Mexico State won the Border Conference playoff.

Cincinnati turned back St.Louis 66-59 for a 13-1 conference record although All-America Oscar Robertson sat out the last seven minutes with five fouls after scoring 22 points. Big "O" ended the regular season as the nation's No. 1 major college scorer with a 3.2 average.

New Mexico State defeated Arizona State University 78-57 for the Border title and a 17-10 over-all mark.

Bradley to NIT

With the NCAA landing basketball's coveted Oscar, the National Invitation Tournament field of 12 was completed by the addition of Bradley, runner-up in the Missouri Valley. Bradley had a 12-2 conference record.

After tonight's tripleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden and the doubleheader at Lexington, it will take a single game Wednesday night at Las Cruces, N.M. to reduce the field to 16 for the four regional tournaments starting Friday at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco.

At New York — West Virginia (25-4) vs Dartmouth (22-5), Connecticut (17-6) vs Boston University (18-6), North Carolina (20-4) vs Navy (16-5).

At Lexington — Eastern Kentucky (16-5) vs Louisville (16-10), Bowling Green (18-7) vs Marquette (22-4).

Wednesday night Idaho State (19-6) tackles New Mexico State (17-10) at Las Cruces.

Kansas State Wins

Second-ranked Kansas State, the Big Eight champion, also completed its regular season by downing Nebraska 76-54. All-America Bob Boozer collected 29 points to raise his average to 25.9.

Joe Kelly paced New Mexico State as the Aggies hit on 50 per cent of their field goal attempts in running away from the Sun Devils.

Receipts Hit $7,384

County's Tourney Draws 12,324 Fans

From the standpoint of both attendance and cash receipts, the recently completed Marion County Basketball Tournament was the largest ever.

That was the word today from Robert O. McFarlan, secretary of the Marion County Athletic Association, who reported that a total of 12,324 persons paid $7,073.55 to see the six sessions of tourney play. That, together with the $93.33 realized from the sale of programs, brought total receipts of $7,384.76.

EXPENSES for the tournament amounted to $6,703.81, leaving a balance of $680.95 in the treasury, according to the report.

All told, 4,821 students sat in on the six nights of games, while 7,503 adult fans passed through the turnstiles.

The biggest attendance on any single night was the 3,576 persons who saw semifinal championship bracket games Feb. 17, in which Prospect battled Pleasant and Green Camp took on Claridon. Some 3,120 persons were on hand for the title and consolation actions between Prospect and Green Camp and Ridgedale and Pleasant.

On Feb. 10, the first night of the tourney, 1,398 paid admissions were noted. On the 12th, 1,763 attended, and on the 14th there were 1,233 fans on hand. The crowd in between the semifinals and the clash for the crown amounted to 1,234 persons.

THE CROWD watching the semifinals shoved $2,088 through the ticket windows, the report indicated.

The primary expenditure for the tournament was the $1,069.60 paid to the Marion County Fair Board as rent for the Coliseum. There were two bills for $400, one from Mr. McFarlan for his secretarial expenses, the other for the officials.

The trophies cost a total of $253.48, while the 10 county schools were paid a total of $252 for help on the Coliseum doors. The City of Marion was paid $212.21 as the tourney's share of the 3 per cent

EACH OF THE 10 schools received $360 from the total receipts, according to the financial statement.

Other expenses exceeding $50 were as follows: Malcolm Severns, $98, police duty; Henry Krock, $90, parking cars; Merton Porter, $54, tourney scorer; Norman Roettger, $54, timer; and Jacob Roettger, $54, scoreboard operator.

The balance of $680.95 is a healthy increase of $463.07 over the $217.88 balance from the 1958 tournament.

Wertz Happy In New Berth With Red Sox

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Vic Wertz figures he may get to play more baseball this year because he's not too fast on his feet.

The big bald-headed first baseman says there's nowhere in the American League he would rather play than Fenway Park.

"I'm very, very happy with the trade," Vic said, referring to the deal that brought him and outfielder Gary Geiger to the Red Sox from Cleveland in return for Jim Piersall.

"I always wished that if I ever got traded I would go to the Red Sox," Wertz said. "Fenway is my favorite park. That's where I've hit the best.

Wertz expressed some unhappiness over the infrequency with which he was used at Cleveland last season. He broke an ankle last March in an exhibition game at Tucson, and wasn't able to appear even as a pinch hitter until late July.

Arm Feels Fine

Score Is Confident He Can Regain Old Control, Speed

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—With a little more work Herb Score of Cleveland's Indians is confident he can regain his control and blazing speed.

"My arm feels fine and as soon as I get the proper rhythm I think I'll be all right," the left-hander said after an intrasquad game Monday.

Score pitched three innings and gave up four hits including a homer by Larry Doby as Red Kress' Apaches lost to Jo-Jo White's Papagos 11-5.

One rookie pitcher in camp quickly admits he's no Herb Score. But Larry Locke figures he can pitch as well or better than Gary Bell and Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

In the Eastern League in 1956, he, Bell and Grant were the big three of the Indians' Reading team. Locke had an 18-9 record and led the league in strikeouts. Bell's record was 13-8 and Grant was 12-13.

"If I hadn't gone in the Army at the end of that season I'd be where they are now," says Locke who was discharged in December. "They kept moving up and I just stood still."

Locke is gunning for assignment to the Tribe's San Diego team this season. He's scheduled to pitch for Mobile.

Prexy Cage Team To Hear Shrider

Dick Shrider, head basketball coach at Miami University, will be speaker next Tuesday at the fourth annual Harding High School Booster Club basketball banquet.

Tickets for the annual event went on sale Monday at the school, Ken Somerlot, athletic coordinator, announced. The tickets are being sold for $1.75.

Purchasers of the Booster Club's package deal last football season who still have not used their privilege of attending one banquet were asked to contact George Howser, Booster Club president.

Members of Coach Don Knodel's basketball squad, co-champions of the Marion Sectional tournament, will be honored as well as the Harding cheerleading crew.

Galion Cagers Given Awards

GALION — Richard Rhinehart and John Miller will be co-captains for next year's basketball season, it was announced during an assembly of the Galion High School student body Monday afternoon, when awards were made for the basketball season.

The captains are elected by vote of the team. Coach Carroll Kent presented the awards. Players receiving letters were James Blosser, Paul Hunt, Ray Jackson, Everett Resh, Karl Smith, Larry Kelly, John Miller, Bucky Monnett, Max Ness, Richard Rhinehart and Gary Zell. Managers receiving letters were Jeff Campbell and Dan Nichols.

Points toward letters and numerals were awarded to the following squad members: James Halsey, Dan Rodriguez, David Boyd, Jack Crase, Alonzo Dyer, Mike Flannery, Archie Hagy, Larry Logan, Larry Poole, Duane Treisch and Jerry Bryant. Two other boys, Fred Kruger and Art Morgan, received numerals as managers.

Miss Rose Seifert, director of physical education for girls, presented letters to Marty Switzer and Marty Hover, two-year cheerleaders, and to Trudy Danner, Beverly Stillings and Patty Wells, one-year cheerleaders.

New Manager Assumes Post At Plaza Lanes

Ray Smith of Columbus Monday assumed his duties as general manager of the Plaza Lanes in the Marion Plaza Shopping Center. Bob Dixon, former manager of the bowling operation, has resigned his local post and plans to make his home in St. Louis.

Announcement of Mr. Smith's appointment was made by J. M. Hill of Mansfield, owner of the local alleys.

Mr. Smith, a veteran of 37 years in bowling competition, has attended 24 ABC tournaments. In 19 years in the Columbus All-Star League he posted a 195 average. His highest average was a 202. During the 19 years, his highest three-game series was a 774 and his highest single game effort 299.

His last position was as manager of the 32-alley Fiesta Lanes on Lane Ave. in Columbus. Prior to that, he was connected with the Columbus Athletic Club for 21 years. He has had extensive experience as a bowling instructor and in fitting and selling bowling equipment.

His wife, Dorothy, is past president of the Columbus Women's Bowling Association and also is a certified instructress for the American Junior Bowling Congress. This year she registered 240 youngsters for Saturday morning activity at the Columbus alley and the group has been organized into three leagues.

Mr. Smith announced that some league openings still are available at the Plaza Lanes and that reservations currently are being accepted for next summer's leagues.

YMCA Cagers End League Campaign

The YMCA Industrial League basketball chase was concluded Monday night with four games being played.

Pollak Steel rolled past Marion Power Shovel 68-42 while Whirlpool bumped Cardington by a 65-48 margin. Fulfillment recorded a 46-37 victory over General Telephone and McMillen defeated Technical Service by a 46 - 36 count.

Jon Yake pumped in 27 points for the Cardington squad but he was the only cager hitting in double figures for the losers. Norm Buyer led the Whirlpool attack with 14 while Chapman had 13, Williams 12 and Martin 11. The winners moved ahead 16-9 in the first period and led 31-20 at the half. They carried a 49-34 edge into the last quarter.

McMillen and Technical Service battled to a 6-6 deadlock in the first period before McMillen pulled away. The winners held a 20-17 halftime edge and went into the last quarter with a 32-29 lead. Kirk's 15 topped the winning attack and Wade with 12 was high for the losers.

Delany Takes 32nd Straight Track Victory

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Don Delany's volcano-like temper almost exploded Monday night when he learned there was official talk of disqualifying him after his 32nd consecutive indoor victory in the mile.

The Irish distance runner registered a 4:05.4 triumph in the Journal games only 48 hours after pounding to a world record 4:01.4 in New York.

Delany had to go all out to defeat Istvan Rozsavolgyi Monday night. Delany caught the Hungarian on the final turn, cut wide and crossed the line with about four yards to spare.

Informed afterwards that least one inspector thought he should have been disqualified for grabbing Rozy's arm on that last curve, Delany shot back:

"Oh, don't give me that. I've never been disqualified in my life. What was I going to do? Say 'excuse me' and walk by?"

Rozy himself said he didn't want to press the matter. Asked through an interpreter if Delany had fouled him, Rozy answered: "He grabbed my arm, but it wasn't intentional."

It seems that inspector Mel Kishner spotted Delany as the Irishman thrust aside Rozy's arm on his way to the victory. An unofficial observer, Ted Haydon, University of Chicago track coach, said Rozy's arm-block would have been sufficient cause to wave him off the track. Besides, said Haydon, Rozy left his lane — another cause for disqualification.

Delany and Rozy ran 4-5 in the five-man field through the first six laps of the 11-lap race while Chicago's Phil Coleman and Barrie Almond, an Aussie enrolled at Houston, Tex., set the pace.

Bill on Motor Scooters Sent Back to Ohio House Committee

Quail Killing Proposal Up Next for Vote

Other Action Slated Includes Decision on Controversial SUB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—High School freshmen and sophomores can go ahead and buy another gallon of gas for their motor scooters. They are far from being "unhorsed."

A bill to deprive 14 and 15-year-olds of their licenses to operate scooters suffered a rude and unexpected setback Monday night in the Ohio House.

The measure to repeal licenses of youngsters under 16 wasn't defeated, but if suffered the humiliation of being jerked off the House floor in the middle of debate and sent back to the House Judiciary Committee for an overhaul.

Quail Vote Scheduled

While the committee takes a second look at the scooter bill, the House scheduled a vote this afternoon on a proposal to permit quail hunting on lands controlled by the state.

A decade ago, after more than a quarter-century on the song-bird list, quail were put on the game-bird list for 10 years to permit the State Wildlife Division to spend money to propagate them. Now, in this Legislature, the question must be answered: Shall Ohio sportsmen be permitted to shoot quail for the first time since 1913?

In the wake of a wild week which saw the total number of bills in the legislative works swell to 1,589, this week looks mild—aside from the scooter and quail bills.

House Studies SUB Issue

Probably coming up is a House vote on a Senate-approved bill to permit simultaneous payment of state jobless benefits and supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB).

A dozen sponsors had their names on a bill to kill off licenses granted by the Legislature two years ago to 14 and 15-year-old operators.

Rep. Harry Corkwell (R - Putnam) offered one amendment to permit youngsters under 16 to operate motor scooters between 5 a.m. and 7 p.m. to enable them to engage in sports and other school activities and to deliver newspapers. He said the rural youngsters needed their scooters to get home because school buses leave as soon as school adjourns. The amendment was defeated narrowly.

Then he offered another amendment also to permit 14-year-olds to operate scooters, but limiting the number of riders of each scooter to one. The amendment passed 64-62. The whole bill was ditched.

That scared off the bill's sponsors—that and an apparent violation of a House rule that provides a bill must be approved before its title may be amended. Corkwell's amendment changed both the title and the bill.

Had Been Chief Coach

Kenton Board Appoints Keel To Head Athletics

KENTON — George Keel, head football and basketball coach at Kenton High School since 1954, Monday night was named to the new post of director of athletics by the Kenton Board of Education.

Mr. Keel will be in charge of the administrative phases of physical education and athletics in both the junior and senior high schools here.

Taking his place as football coach will be last year's assistant varsity coach William Havens. James Miller, assistant basketball coach this last season, will move up to the head cage spot next season.

Mr. Keel is a 1937 graduate of Kenton High School where he was an outstanding athlete. He attended Ohio Northern University and was active in sports there. He received a master of arts degree from Ohio State University. Before coming to Kenton he held coaching jobs at Marion Harding, where he was assistant football and basketball coach, and at Urbana High School. At Marion he had been named head basketball coach but accepted the coaching job at Kenton before ever serving in that capacity.

His basketball teams racked up a record of 43 wins and 31 losses including this last season, one of the poorest in the school's history.

His football teams came through with 18 wins and suffered 34 losses. Last season they won four, lost five and tied one.

DiSalle Notes Reaction Split On Tax Boosts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Money matters took up much of Gov Michael V. DiSalle's day Monday. He urged legislative leaders to act on tax measures before making appropriations and then told newsmen of letters he has received concerning his proposed budget for the state.

After meeting with Sen. Frank W. King (D-Lucas), Senate majority leader; Rep. Jesse Yoder (D-Montgomery) House majority leader and House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield), DiSalle said:

"I told the legislative leaders not to set appropriation measures down (for a vote) until revenues had been determined."

The governor earlier had said he would cut appropriations if the Legislature dropped portions of his tax program.

DiSalle told newsmen he has received about 80 letters and cards about his two billion dollar state operating budget which calls for tax increases of about one-third of a billion dollars in the next two years.

Sentiment was fairly well divided, the governor said, with comments ranging from "haven't you bums heard of saving money?" to "congratulations on giving every one in Ohio the facts of life."

A farmer near Circleville commended the governor's "frankness" and added: "I think it takes a brave man to ask one-third of a billion dollars more in taxes and a braver man to operate within income."

A Euclid woman wrote that she was glad she voted for DiSalle because schools and mental institutions need more help. But another writer endorsed the sentiments of a Cincinnati man who said the tax program had made him a Republican.

A Fowler resident said that after reading an account of the budget in the Warren Tribune Chronicle, "I liked the sound of it. I am a Republican. If O'Neill had a program like that he might have still been governor."

Settlements Made In Damage Claims

A $75,000 damage suit against the mother of a Marion man who was killed with three others in a Kenton Ave. auto crash in December 1957 was reported settled out of court today.

Plaintiff in the action was Mrs. Mary Elkins, widow and administratrix of the estate of the late Garland D. Elkins of 674 Sugar St She filed the suit against Mrs. Sylvia D. Cremeens, mother and administratrix of the estate of the late William Cremeens of 664 Meadow St.

Both men were killed in a head-on crash Dec. 29, 1957. The plaintiff charged that Mr. Cremeens swerved the car he was driving and struck one driven by her husband.

A $25,000 cross-petition, filed against the plaintiff by Mrs. Cremeens, also has been settled.

The plaintiff was represented by the local law firm of Moore, Myers and Parsell. Kenneth Agee of Columbus and the Marion law firm of Fetter and Baker represented the defendant.

Riots Claim 42

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP)—The Rhodesian air force today parachuted supplies to security forces fanned out over this sprawling British protectorate to rout out African nationalist saboteurs.

The roundup of agitators seeking to stir up demonstrations and strikes has brought an uneasy quiet. There were no reports of violence during the night.

The death toll of Africans in riots has reached 42.

Board Notes Turnpike Use Up 11 Per Cent

CLEVELAND (AP) — The number of passenger cars and trucks using the Ohio Turnpike in January and February was more than 11 per cent greater than in the first two months of 1958, the Turnpike Commission reported today.

The two-month total for 1959, with comparable 1958 figures in parentheses:

During the January-February period of last year, passenger cars accounted for 52 per cent of total revenue. But this year trucks have provided a majority of the revenue in the first two months—53.8 per cent.

Toll revenue for the two months was $2,080,871, compared with $1,761,484 in January - February of 1958. Operating expenses were down from $963,245 in 1958 to $816,950 in the first two months of this year.

Engineer Gets Extension for Ditch Reports

A nine-week extension for filing reports and schedules on proposed improvements to Blum Run Ditch northeast of Marion was granted to County Engineer Reed Ours Monday by the county commissioners.

The engineer requested the extension in order to obtain from the city engineer a list of lots within the corporation that drain into the run. The plans were to be submitted Monday. The commissioners granted the extension until May 11.

Improvements to the waterway, which runs past the east edge of the Fair Park Addition, were requested by the National Development Corp. and George F. Scantland Jr. Cost of the project was estimated last summer at $22,773.

In other business Monday, the commissioners approved a uniform rate schedule for funeral charges for indigent persons. Suggested at a previous meeting of the commissioners, funeral directors and Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis, the charges range from $45 for infants to a maximum of $180 for adults.

The charges include only professional services, casket and clothing and do not include the outside receptacle, grave space or burial costs, the commissioners said.

Probers Quiz Counsel Over Bribe Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor-Management Committee called its chief counsel, Robert F. Kennedy, for closed door questioning today about reported efforts to bribe him with offers of political support.

Kennedy has said he did not report the offers to the committee or to its chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), before telling the story at a news conference in Milwaukee Friday.

Kennedy said then he had received — and rejected — offers of political support for his brother if he would agree to lay off witnesses summoned to testify.

The brother, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), serves on the committee and is regarded as a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

In telling of the incidents counsel Kennedy named no names, but said "the most serious attempt came from management." He said another serious offer, as he termed it, had come from a labor union.

McClellan and Kennedy declined to discuss the matter further in advance of the closed hearing.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

A 27-year-old LaRue man was slightly injured Monday morning when the eastbound car he was driving skidded out of control on State Rt. 95 and slammed into a tree on the south side of the road.

The state highway patrol said Wirt L. Robinson suffered a bruised forehead and left leg in the 9:55 a.m. accident but was not treated. The car was a total loss, patrolmen said. The accident occurred about four miles west of Marion.

At 3:15 p.m. two trucks were slightly damaged about one-half mile south of Cardington on U.S. Rt. 42. Patrolmen said John E. Walters, 43, of Waynesville was driving one truck and towing another when a bolt in the tow bar snapped. The lead truck swerved into the east ditch and the other plunged into the west ditch, patrolmen said.

Three Accidents in City

Three no injury traffic accidents were investigated Monday by Marion police.

One mishap occurred at 3:45 p.m. on S. Greenwood St. and involved cars driven by David Augenstein, 17, of 374 Chestnut St., and Michael Dunaway, 16, of 271 Barnhart St.

A second incident occurred at 10:20 p.m. in the 400 block of Park St. when a car being backed by Carrol Ray Rowley, 49, of 972 Bennett St. collided with a parked auto owned by Dale Burklew of 373 Olney Ave.

A third accident at 12:54 p.m. in the 400 block of W. Center St. involved cars driven by Charles J. Hall, 55, of 1040 N. Main St., Paul E. Gattshall, 34, of 708 N. Main St., and a parked car owned by the Marion Distributing Co. of 278 Quarry St.

X15 Will Receive First Aerial Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Like a huge mother hen with one chick, an eight-jet B52 bomber sits in a hangar here with an X15 rocket ship under her right wing.

Sometime today, the plump silvery mother ship is scheduled to take her stubby ward aloft for the first time.

This test of the air stability of the needle-nosed Black Arrow — designed to take man up to the edge of space and bring him back unharmed — probably will take two hours or longer.

Then the mother ship, with the X15 still locked to a pylon under its wing, will let down on the 20-mile-long dry lake bed which serves as a runway area on this 300,000-acre desert test center.

Family Society Will Send Two To Convention

Miss Pansy Rauhauser and Mrs. Doris C. Maxwell have been named delegates to the biennial meeting of the Family Service Association of America to be held in Washington, D. C., April 1-3. The appointments were made at the Monday night board meeting of the Family Service Society.

Miss Rauhauser will attend the workshops on the "Work of the Service Volunteer." This topic is particularly timely for Marion in view of the recent establishment of a volunteer service program.

Another problem to which the staff of the agency has given special interest is the role of the father in the family. Mrs. Maxwell will participate in the workshop, "Strengthening the Father's Role Through Family Case Work."

Dr. Gardner Murphy, director of research of Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kan., will open the meeting with a discussion on "New Understanding of Family Dynamics." The meeting will conclude with a talk on "What is Happening to the Russian Family" by Charles I. Schottland, dean, of the graduate school of advanced studies in social welfare, Brandies University, Waltham, Mass.

The treasurer reported expenditures of $1,500.59 for the month of February.

Mrs. Charles Mitchell, who has been doing her field work training with the agency, will be leaving the middle of March to return to the school of social administration, Ohio State University, to complete academic requirements for her masters' degree, it was announced.

The constitutional committee reported on revision of the constitution. Mr. Fogt, the chairman, said "we need to do away with amendments and amendments to amendments" which to facilitate the functioning have been adopted since the constitution was written in 1951.

Mrs. W. D. McGee, membership committee chairman, announced that statements for annual dues are being sent out by her committee with Mrs. Harold Fetter in charge.

Mr. Fogt presided. Others present were: William Hutchman, Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Edwin J. Probst, Mrs. Frederick Rea, Dudley Reed Jr., Mrs. John Waddell and Mrs. Maxwell.

The fourth swung up on the wooden counter in front of the tellers' windows, stepped nimbly over the glass partition on top, and dropped on the other side.

The six tellers, five women and a man, were told to empty their cash drawers. Two gunmen quickly filled the bags.

They missed $11,000 in a lower drawer. Bank officials said later there was about $60,000 more in a vault.

Water Hike

licitor Riley Hall said it is his understanding the Water Co. will file with the PUCO a notice of intent to apply to it for the rate increase.

—:—

ON RECEIPT OF this notice, the PUCO will send its auditors and appraisers here to make a detailed study of the Water Co. books and valuation figures, he said.

Later, the commission will hold hearings on the rate proposal and at that time the city will have the opportunity to oppose it, he said.

The PUCO may rule the company is entitled to rates requested, or higher or, lower rates, Mr. Hall said.

Depending on the findings of the PUCO, the company may change its attitude concerning further negotiation of the proposed rates with council, he said.

The question of purchasing the water company facilities was raised by Richard Lister (R-at large). Mr. Hall said it would be ridiculous for the city to consider such a move because it doesn't have the bonding power to cover purchase price.

Asked if the city couldn't issue revenue bonds to pay for it, Mr. Hall called attention to the figures quoted by company officials pertaining to present and proposed rate of return on investment. The company officials reported the company now earns a return of 1.59 per cent and the new rates would provide a return of 3.85 per cent.

Mr. Hall said that this would be a low rate of return on which to base the sale of revenue bonds.

The city, under terms of the franchise agreement, will not have the opportunity to purchase the plant and distribution system again until 1961.

"If we didn't run the water company any better than the rest of the city, I'm not for purchasing it," Mr. Fetter said.

House Probes Communists' U.S. Activities

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Current Communist techniques and activities are the topic of hearings by a House Subcommittee on un-American Activities getting under way here today.

The scheduled three-day hearing is being conducted by a subcommittee composed of Reps. Edwin E. Willis (D-La), William M. Tuck (D-Va.) and Gorden H. Scherer (R-Ohio).

The subcommittee did not make public in advance the names of witnesses summoned to the hearing.

Before the hearing got under way here, the Greater Pittsburgh Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union made a statement critical of the hearings.

The statement said:

"We do not question the right of a congressional committee to investigate truly subversive activities. We are deeply concerned when such investigation becomes a device for intimidation . . . suppression of expressions of opinion."

Iowa Girl, 12, Is Pulled From 30-Foot Well

LE GRAND, Iowa (AP)—Barbara Lawson, 12, a Le Grand farm girl, was recovering today at her home from the harrowing experience of being rescued from a fall Monday into an abandoned 30-foot well on the Lawson farm.

Her condition was described as satisfactory. A doctor said she suffered only a skinned knee, and slightly from exposure.

The girl and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lawson, credited Barbara's trust in her mother's words, a rusted pipe in the well, and the efforts of Fuhrman Parks, a Le Grand volunteer fireman, with saving her life.

"Mommy kept telling me to hang on," Barbara related. "I did. I knew somebody would help me out if I just hung on long enough. My hands were cold and my arms ached. I heard mommy yelling at me to hang on—help was coming soon."

The girl clung to the pipe for 30 minutes until Parks rescued her. Water in the well was nine feet deep. Fellow firemen let Parks down on a rope which he tied to the girl and she was pulled out. Then Parks was pulled back to safety.

Barbara broke through an old board cover of the well as she started to leave her home to go to school.

and legislators as to the stand the local group takes on both issues.

Five new teachers were employed for the coming year. Hired at the elementary level were Miss Betty Bowman of Caledonia, Miss Jo Ann Miller of Bucyrus and Miss June Mohler of Lancaster. Approved for employment at the junior high level were Miss Constance Bartram and Miss Sally Linscott, both of Marion.

Mr. Brown told the board that all five teachers will hold four-year degrees at the time they assume their posts next fall.

Also employed were Mrs. Mildred Mohr as a lunchroom worker at Harding and Marvin Hornbeck as a custodian at Olney Ave. for the balance of this year.

In other action, four guidance counselors in city public schools were authorized to attend a meeting of the American Personnel and Guidance Association March 23-26. Expenses of $50 each were allotted for the teachers. They are Miss Helen May, Harding; Howard Quinn, director of child study and guidance; Richard Rees, Edison Junior High School, and Miss Carolyn Ulsh, Baker Junior High School.

Mr. Brown said that since the conference is being held during the Easter vacation period here, no substitute teachers will be necessary.

Bills totalling $47,185.87 were approved for payment as presented by Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, board president. Miss Vera Stull, clerk, reported that the quarterly payment of State Foundation funds was received Feb. 26 in the amount of $168,832.70.

In making announcements of coming events, Mr. Brown urged board members to attend a regional meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association to be held Wednesday night at Harding High School.

The superintendent hailed the Science Fair at Harding as an outstanding success. The event, and possible ways of improving and expanding it in future years, was considered in board discussion.

All members except Rodney S. Cox were present for the 5 p.m. meeting held in the School Administration Building. Mr. Cox was away from the city on business.

Food Surpluses Untapped

Government Could Ease Misery of Unemployed

By VICTOR RIESEL

It's time for lots of us with money in our wallets to say it: Soon there will be actual hunger in the midst of plenty of prosperity in this nation. There are poverty pockets. There are heartbreaks at plant gates each week. There are tens of thousands of charity cases. There are loaded welfare lists. All this, in the midst of plenty—of memories of the '30s.

VICTOR RIESEL

And all the while the Agricultural Department is nursing more than nine billion dollars worth of surplus foods. Yet there are thousands of families of unemployed men who need this sustenance but will have to grovel or sell their toasters, TV sets or old washing machines and prove themselves absolutely destitute before they can get what is stored up in federal bins.

It takes a trip such as I've just made through this land to see personally that in these poverty pockets in the midst of our very real boom are an estimated one million of the five million jobless. They need help desperately.

THEY'VE BEEN out of work so long, they'll be hungry—real 1930 type hungry—in the next six months.

But it's a rare community—possibly only Bristol, Pa.—which has set up efficient offices to apply for the surplus foods and distribute them in such hard hit areas as Pennsylvania, Northern New York, and Michigan.

Yet the government's Commodity Credit Corp.—official keeper of the stores—now has over nine billion dollars worth of foods such as dried milk, soy beans, cheese, meats and wheat on hand. By June 1960, this vast surplus stockpile of edibles (and a few other commodities such as cotton) will hit 10½ billion dollars.

And just imagine, the sheer cost of keeping this stuff from rotting each year could feed most of the unemployed. Government records reveal that in the 1959 fiscal year it will pay 850 million dollars for storage, transportation and interest on the surpluses. Next year this cost will jump to $1,200,000,000 just for the handling of stuff which apparently will never be eaten by anyone.

THIS MONEY has absolutely nothing to do with the cost of purchasing the surpluses—it's just the handling charges, let me re-emphasize.

But despite the need of those caught in the nation's poverty pockets, only a few million dollars worth of this gargantuan store of staples has been distributed this year.

The AFL-CIO Community Services Committee, headed by Leo Perlis, reports that some of the neediest unemployed will go along on meager diets rather than see themselves left with just meager shreds of dignity.

They feel they lose their self-respect when they are required to fill out forms stating they have no close relatives working, that they have less than a few hundred dollars in the bank, or that they have no assets such as a TV set or an old car. This was the experience of Auto Workers in upper New York, for example.

And even when they have convinced Scrooge-type officials that they are not moochers, they get a handout of dried milk, cheese or soy beans. The officialdom just doesn't bother to attempt to make available the other varieties of surpluses such as meats or eggs.

ALL THIS—and more—will be spoken of bitterly at the AFL-CIO unemployment demonstration in Washington which labor's four-man task force planned in detail in Washington on Wednesday.

From all over the nation, representatives of jobless councils will come by plane, train and chartered bus to hear speakers demand a national moratorium on debts of the unemployed.

They will hear pleas for a holiday on taxes in the form of reduced withholding amounts from pay envelopes each week. Orators will urge a free medical plan tied to the distribution of surplus foods and free legal aid and psychological guidance for families hit by the strains of sudden poverty.

There will be calls for the kind of laws you would expect a "march" on Washington to demand. There will be a surplus of such demands—but, agree with them or not, let's get those billions of dollars worth of foods from the federal bins to the breadbaskets of the folks who need our help.

Legislative proposals concerning education will be discussed during the 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. session.

The meeting is designed also to acquaint board officials and educators with the steps necessary for approval of a bill in the legislature and the role they can play in promoting or opposing an issue.

An invitation has been extended not only to association members, but other interested educators and board members in the area.

To Your Good Health

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Coffee's Effect on People Is Variable

"Dear Dr. Molner: Are five cups of coffee harmful? So many of us like it, find it pleasantly stimulating and energizing, but do not want it at the expense of injury to ourselves or shortening of our lives. — H.J."

Dr. Molner

Yes, indeed, coffee is pleasantly stimulating and energizing. The same is true of tea. It warms us up in cold weather, it is a famous eye-opener for those of us who have a hard time getting started in the morning.

Maybe the less said the better about the "coffee break," which has reached the stage of absurdity in the years since the war, with whole offices, stations, conferences deserted en masse.

The point is that coffee (or tea) is a pleasant stimulant. Aromatic oils in the bean, (or the leaf), give a pleasant taste and aroma.

But the chief factor in either tea or coffee is the caffein content. Caffein is a stimulating drug. It quickens the heart rate, raises the blood pressure a bit, and stimulates the brain.

YOU MIGHT have more respect for caffein if you ever saw its use in a hospital, strictly as a drug instead of a constituent of a hot cup. A patient, found collasped in the cold, often revives astoundingly from the injection of the amount of caffein that is found in three to five cups of coffee. (Of course, given thus, it stimulates the patient with more of a jolt than would be the case if he absorbed the caffein more slowly by drinking coffee.)

Now when H. J. talks about five cups a day as being "moderate," I cannot either agree or disagree. The effect on different people is variable. For him, five cups may be well tolerated. Others may handle more than that with ease. Others may find it too much.

Those with heart trouble (coronary disease) may find that coffee or tea produces extra heart beats and unpleasant palpitation.

—:—

SLEEPLESSNESS will bother some, not others. And the degree of sensitivity to caffein may vary as time passes.

Large amounts of tea or coffee can cause stomach irritation. Some of the restlessness and irritability, so prevalent today, can be the result of excessive amounts.

I don't think coffee shortens our lives, but in excess it can make one miserable, and may be an unsuspected cause of some of the troubles I've cited.

I am not against coffee; I like it. But there is an individual limit, and this you must determine yourself.

"Dear Mr. Molner: If you once had a fissure and hemorrhoids and were operated on for them, is there any danger of having the same trouble again? Please send me your booklet, 'The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids.' Stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents is enclosed.—A.E."

Yes, there's a chance of return of the trouble if you don't take care of yourself. The booklet will explain that—and also how to take precautions against recurrence.

"Dear Docotor: I am 50 years old. Within the last few months several large cysts have formed on my scalp. I do not have the courage to go to a doctor and have them taken care of. If I do not do so soon, can they become harmful to my health?—B.F."

Naturally they can. They could for example become seriously infected. But I'll tell you something else that won't do your health any good: That's worrying yourself to pieces instead of taking a good solid grip on your emotions for just long enough to get yourself to the doctor. After that, you'll suddenly find that there isn't any reason to be afraid of going to the doctor with your cysts. And your nerves will relax.

Attention all women! For my new pamphlet, "The Pre-Menstrual Blues," write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover handling. This pamphlet may help you!

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Rumor New Penny Defective Is Killed by Director of Mint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New Lincoln penny is lopsided but will stay in circulation. It seems that the old penny, which has been knocking around for 50 years is just as cockeyed.

Rumors about the new coin have been spreading ever since distribution began in January. There has been talk it is marred by one or more blunders and will be withdrawn from circulation.

Some people have gathered the coins in quantity, believing they will soon become a valuable collector's item.

Leland Howard, director of the mint, said today every such rumor is without foundation and that no mistakes were made in design or manufacture.

One side of the new coin, with the profile of Abraham Lincoln, is unchanged from the model introduced in 1909. The "tail" side is brand new and features a reproduction of the Lincoln Memorial.

"Every time we bring out a new coin there are a lot of rumors and we get a big batch of mail and phone calls," Howard said.

Take the latest rumor—that the coin is lopsided and must be scrapped because it won't stack properly.

Howard fished a new penny from his pocket and inspected the rim. Pointing, he said: "Here the rim is thinner than at any other point. You can see it with the naked eye."

The spot he indicated was right below Lincoln's shoulder.

It is caused by the heavy press that stamps the coin design onto a flat disc of metal, Howard explained.

Howard said almost every U.S. coin, regardless of denomination, has such a thin spot. He picked up a quarter and examined it. The rim was thinner above the head of Washington.

Stennis Says Space Flight Program Vital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States must be first in developing a space vehicle that can deliver nuclear weapons, Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) said today.

He told the Senate in a prepared speech that if an adversary outstripped this country in that respect, "the threat to our security could be disastrous."

Stennis spoke in support of a bill to authorize $48,354,000 for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for use by July 1. The total includes $20,750,000 for Project Mercury, NASA's initial manned space research program.

Another 70 millions for the project has been asked in a $485,300,000 program for NASA starting July 1, and Mercury's total cost has been estimated at 200 million dollars.

But Stennis said that is only a start.

"If Mercury is successful—and it is essential that it be successful—we can soon expect to be spending billions of dollars a year on various types of space vehicles, unless there is a drastic change in the world situation," Stennis said.

"We must make no mistake about this—space flight is of the highest importance and of the highest practicality."

Negotiations Continue In Strike by Pressmen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations continue today in an effort to end a pressmen's strike which has tied up publication of this city's three daily newspapers since Feb. 26.

Following a three-hour session Monday night, Federal Mediator George Bell said the Web Pressmen's Union, Local 15, had made a number of suggestions which the publishers were taking under consideration.

The dispute over wages and overtime pay for Saturday night work has halted publication of the Columbus Dispatch and Columbus Citizen, afternoon papers, and the morning Ohio State Journal.

Monday nearly 40,000 copies of the strike-born Columbus Daily News were sold to the news-famished capital city residents. The tabloid, published and staffed by Local 13 of the American Newspaper Guild, will cease operation when the strike is settled.

Right of Way Needed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Whether a 15-mile-long four-lane divided freeway connecting the Akron and Canton expressways is started in the next two-year period depends on whether the Ohio Legislature provides money for advance acquisition of right of way, Highway Director Everett S. Preston said Monday. The route, to be a relocation of Ohio 8, is expected to cost 16 to 17 million dollars.

Verdict on Texas City Blast Cause Aids Government

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A federal judge ruled Monday that a carelessly discarded cigarette or match likely caused the freighter fire which triggered the death-dealing 1947 Texas City disaster.

The decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben. C. Connally followed nearly 12 years of legal maneuvering.

It favored the United States government in its efforts to collect some 70 million dollars from the French government and the French Lines.

Judge Connally said neither the French government or the ship firm is entitled to exoneration from or limitation of liability in the fire and resulting explosion aboard the S. S. Grandcamp.

More than 500 were killed and more than 3,000 injured when the fires spread through the small city on Galveston Bay.

Tennis Court Going Up On White House Lawn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Come spring, confused tourists hunting for the White House lawn may think they've found an athletic club instead.

Peering through the gates, a visitor, if he's lucky, might spot President Eisenhower putting golf balls on his green, his grandson, David Eisenhower, 10, swishing basketballs through a hoop, and White House aides smashing tennis balls over a net

The putting green and basketball hoop are there now. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen Monday the President had authorized restoration of an old tennis court.

Hagerty said the repairs were requested by some tennis enthusiasts on the White House staff. He said they would share the small cost of restoration.

He was diagnosed as legally sane at Lima. If he is found sane at the hearing, a trial date probably will be set.

Lt. Gen. Parks Dies of Cancer

Led U.S. Troops Into Berlin During War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, 63, who led the first American troops into Berlin at the end of World War II, died of cancer early today in an Army hospital

He became Berlin's unofficial mayor in 1945 when he presided over meetings with the commanders of the Soviet, British, and French occupying forces.

After retiring from the Army in 1956, Parks was named executive director of the National Rifle Assn., his position at the time of his death.

Parks rose to the rank of general after enlisting as a private during World War I. He was commissioned a lieutenant in 1918

A native of Louisville, Ky., he was graduated from Clemson College in 1917 and spent his entire career with the Army until he joined the rifle association.

During World War II, as commander of the First Airborne Army, he led the first airborne troops into Germany. He received the Distinguished Service Cross with oak leaf cluster.

French Reds Pick Up Votes

PARIS (AP) — After a brief flirtation with President Charles de Gaulle, steady followers of France's Communist party were back in the Red fold today. They may have brought along a few friends.

This was the most striking result of elections held throughout France and many overseas territories Sunday for municipal councilors. Voting was held in about 38,000 communities to choose nearly 500,000 councilors from a list of more than a million candidates.

On all fronts the Communists rallied from their setback last fall in the election of the new National Assembly. The Communist percentage of the vote then dropped from the 24 per cent they had maintained in most postwar elections to about 18 per cent.

Returns from the big cities and most of the smaller towns indicated the Reds again took about 1 vote in every 4 Sunday.

Rogers Show May Be State Fair Attraction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Roy Rogers, one of the top drawing cards at the 1956 Ohio State Fair, may return for this years exposition, but it's up to the public to decide.

Fair Manager Rowland Bishop and Agriculture Director Robert Terhune said Monday they have a chance to sign a contract for the Rogers troupe. But they added that before signing they want to hear from Ohioans who will be attending the fair.

Terhune said that Rogers, a native of the southern Ohio community of Duck Run—would appear Aug. 28-31. In 1956 the Rogers show netted Ohio $24,916.

"This is not a change in our policy of not bringing Hollywood and TV personalities to the fair," Bishop said, "but we consider the Rogers troupe a family show and Rogers is himself an Ohio product."

CLEVELAND (AP) — For his part in a robbery-slaying which netted $10, Carl Rawls, 22, was sentenced to life imprisonment. A three-judge panel convicted Rawls of first degree murder Monday, but recommended mercy and saved him from the electric chair. Rawls and Leon Curry, 21, were accused of beating to death Edward Celmar during a robbery Nov. 21.

Kentucky Coal Strike Truce Prospects Dim

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Harlan County's coal strike moved into its second day today with no prospects of a settlement.

There has been no sign of trouble as United Mine Workers Union members struck holdout independent operators who have refused to sign the new UMW contract.

Speculation here was that it may be two to five weeks before there is any break in the situation

The strike had idled about 3,100 of the 5,000 men who work in the 200 or so small truck mines and 26 larger holdout companies. Six have signed new contracts.

Pair Indicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County grand jury Monday returned 99 indictments against Mrs. Lois B. Nunamaker, 18, and Virgil E. Fouch, 23, both of Columbus, for forging and issuing checks. Arrested here Feb. 3, the pair is believed to have written 130 bad checks in a 10-week period in Columbus, Cincinnati and Lancaster.

Ohio Legislators From Marion Area Introduce 105 Bills

By Our Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — Marion area legislators will be able to stay busy for the remainder of the 103rd General Assembly's regular session just by looking after the fortunes of their own bills.

With the deadline past, a tally showed today they have dropped a total of 105 measures into the legislative works.

Sen. Danny D. Johnson (D-New Philadelphia) headed the list with 34 bills, fourth highest total in the Senate.

Sen. J. E. Simpson (R-Forest) offered 12 measures and Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Zanesville) put in an even half dozen.

In the House, Rep. F. K. Cassel (R-Wyandot) topped the list of area representatives with 16, followed closely by Rep. Joseph E. Lady (R-Hardin) with 13 and Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion) with 10.

Rep. Clifton L. Caryl (R-Union) dropped five bills in the hopper and three each were offered by Reps. Terry E. Drake (R-Crawford), Kenneth B. Creasey (R-Delaware) and Dale Hildebrand (R-Morrow).

Two More Among Science Winners

The names of two students who earned top ratings in the public school Science Fair over the weekend were inadvertently omitted from a list in Monday's Star, school officials reported today.

They were Otis Goines of Edison Junior High School, whose project was under the mathematics classification, and John Leffler of Baker Junior High School, whose exhibit was in the field of physics.

School officials also reported that the name of one top award recipient was spelled incorrectly. He was Harold Rorick of Edison Junior High School. The name was submitted to The Star Monday as Harold Roneh.

Since some projects were done by joint student effort, a few names may have been omitted from the list Monday if they received top ratings, Cecil W. Gabler, assistant to the superintendent, noted today.

He said the names were reported as listed on the project entries. If only one named appeared on the card, the judges inferred it was the work of a single student, he added.

Proposed Water Rates

The company plans to ask approval of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio for putting the new rates in effect.

While the water rates would be affected, the proposal would have no effect on the city sewer revenue service charge. This charge is collected for the city by the water company but is based solely on the amount of water used, not on a percentage of the water bill.

In presenting the new rate proposal the company also proposes to simplify its bookkeeping procedures by combining two previous rate schedules into one.

Under the existing rate structure, Schedule A applies only to domestic (residential) service rates, and Schedule B to commercial and industrial users. Under the new proposal these are combined into one. Under the existing rates, commercial and industrial users experience a larger reduction in per unit cost after consumption reaches 15,000 cubic feet per month than do residential users.

Under the proposed new rates, reduction after the first 15,000 c.f. applies to residential, as well as commercial, industrial users.

In the rate tables that follow, the new Schedule A is compared with both the previous Schedule A and Schedule B in order that commercial and industrial users may more easily compute the difference present and proposed rates.

The tables show the new rates, the old rates, the increase in dollars and cents and the per cent of increase for each class of service.

Richwood Council Gets New Member

The treasurer's report showed that the village general fund was $948 in the red at the end of the month. This compares with a deficit of $3,458 at the same time last year.

Under a new ruling from the auditor of state the street lighting bills were paid from the street maintenance fund. Council discussed the condition of streets in the area of the park and will try to have them in good condition by the time the season opens in May.

A discussion also was held of the need for street repairs throughout the village and repairs will be made as soon as conditions permit.

A resolution was passed to buy a used car from Thomas Chevrolet for use as a police cruiser.

The sum of $2,248 was received from the county auditor representing the village's share of personal and sales tax receipts.

New Pleasant School Salary Rates Okayed

The Pleasant Board of Education, meeting Monday night in a session adjourned from last Monday, passed a new salary schedule for teachers in the district.

The salaries under the new schedule will range from a low of $3,300 for a teacher with two years of training and no experience to a top of $6,100 for a teacher with a master's degree and 11 years of experience.

The previous low was $3,000 while the top, $6,100, was not attained until after 12 years of experience.

The top salary for teachers with two years' training will be $3,600 after three years of experience. Those with three years of training will receive $3,550 to start compared with $3,300 under the old schedule, and can rise to $4,050 in five years, the same maximum as before.

Bachelor degree holders will start at $4,200 and go up to $5,550 in nine years. A Bachelor's degree plus 30 hours of training will bring a starting salary of $4,300 and a maximum salary of $5,950 in 11 years. The master's degree holders will receive a starting salary of $4,450.

The board also increased the maximum increment to be received by teachers from $300 to $500 a year. The limitation on credit for service outside of the Pleasant district was removed. It had been five years.

First transatlantic telephone service opened in 1927.

Kenton Boy in Hospital After Being Hit by Auto

KENTON — A 7-year-old Kenton boy is in fair condition at San Antonio today after being struck by a car on S. Main St. here Monday afternoon.

Allen Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb of S. Wayne St., was returning to Espy School from lunch when the accident happened. Kenton police said the boy ran into the path of an oncoming car in the 600 block of S. Wayne St. Driver of the car, Howard Amrine, 37, of Kenton, was able to stop before running over the boy, but the impact still threw the child to the pavement.

NLRB's Hearing Enters Fifth Day

The general counsel for the National Labor Relations Board is expected to wind up direct testimony today as a hearing exploring an unfair labor practice charge filed against the Marion Division of the Whirlpool Corp. by the United Auto Workers went into its fifth day.

Upon conclusion of the government's case, attorneys for the company will begin presenting witnesses to substantiate their contention that an employe was discharged for just cause and that an employe council at the plant is not a company dominated labor organization within the meaning of the National Labor Relations act.

Indications are that the hearing will continue until the end of the week.

Monday saw the resumption of direct examination of Henry Boles, a company employe and a member of the employe council, followed by cross examination by company attorneys. James Bender of 750 Cheney Ave., another member of the employe council, was on the stand when Trial Examiner A. Bruce Hunt recessed the hearings until 10 a.m. today.

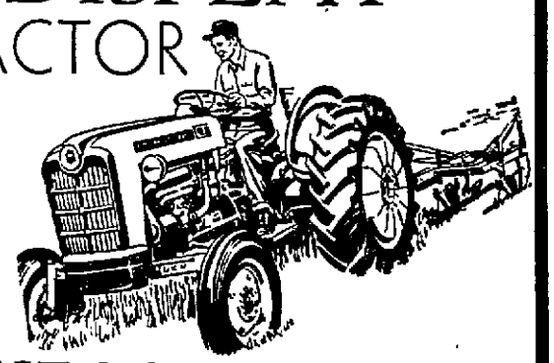
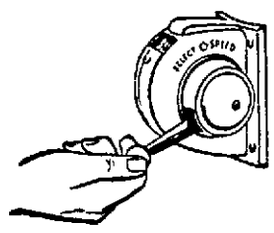
THE ALL NEW —59 FORD TRACTOR
at
FAIRCHILD'S FORD



NEW FORD SELECT-O-SPEED!!
NOW SHIFT ON THE GO TO ANY SPEED



Hydraulic power does the actual shifting, but it's controlled by this handy lever under the steering wheel. A light touch is all you need to shift to any gear—10 speeds forward, 2 reverse—at any time.

Now-finger-tip, clutchless shifting with hydraulic power doing all the work! For the first time, you can shift on-the-go to any speed you want, any power you need, by a simple touch of your finger. Now you can match pullpower and speed exactly, instantly, to changing field conditions. And what's more, independent PTO engages or disengages on-the-go, too, to save time and speed PTO work. With clutchless power shifting and independent PTO, you'll do more work and cover more acres. Come in and test drive a Ford Select-O-Speed tractor soon, see what it can do for you!

Ex-Grid Star Finds Fortune In Rabbit Meat

Dewey McConnell Has Ready Market in Mink Farms, Fur Factories

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — The lowly rabbit is the foundation of a business that is grossing $125,000 a year for onetime All-America end Dewey McConnell and his brothers.

McConnell, one of the University of Wyoming's all-time football greats, was the defensive end on The Associated Press All-America team of 1951. His professional career as a football player was short and he returned to his native Laramie to go into business with his brothers, Albert Jr. and Harry.

They operate McConnell Brothers Diversified Interests, a business founded by their father 30 years ago.

Used by Mink Farms

Principal products of the enterprise are processing rabbit meat for mink farms throughout the country and rabbit fur used by felt manufacturers. Some of the meat is fed to the 500 mink the McConnells own.

The plant processed 250,000 of the animals between November and March when the fur quality is the best. When running at full capacity the plant employes up to 50 men. The annual payroll is $40,000.

Rabbits come from an 11-state area, stretching from Oregon to South Dakota and from Texas, through Kansas to Montana.

The McConnells pay from 15 to 40 cents per rabbit. Most of the raw material, Dewey said, comes from hunters of all ages. "They probably would hunt the rabbits if there wasn't any payment," he added.

Send Agents to Fields

When the rabbit season opens, the McConnells send their purchasing agents with seven trucks into areas where the rabbit population is heavy.

Farmers and ranchers cooperate because a band of hungry jack rabbits has been known to do as much as $10,000 in damage to a single farm.

McConnell said farmers and ranchers told him that three to ten rabbits will eat as much as one cow. One farmer told the onetime football player that he got only one, instead of the customary two, cutting of alfalfa. Rabbits got the rest, then turned to stacks of cured alfalfa hay.

McConnell said 55,000 to 60,000 rabbits were taken in the Gillette area of northeastern Wyoming in the 1955-56 season. He said other purchasers have bought as many as 100,000 rabbits in one Kansas town.

Charter Extra Trucks

Sometimes, when the hunting is particularly good, the McConnell brothers have to charter additional trucks to haul their raw material.

Rabbit population appears to run in cycles. An area where hundreds graze one season may not have a single one the next year.

They are looking enviously on the market for dog and cat food.

WORK WANTED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Laymen are ready and eager to work in teaching others about the Lord, says Tillman S. Stevens, stewardship counselor for the Evangelical Lutheran Church, but "they must be asked, and the church must offer them a program worthy of their time and effort."

'Dr. Seuss' Hit With Youngsters

Doodles Inspire Child's Book Author

CHICAGO (AP) — If in another decade or so the American sense of humor takes a ridiculous jump upward, admirers of Theodor Seuss Geisel won't be surprised.

They are delighted with the zany blend of hilarious image and simple language which has become the trademark of "Dr. Seuss," Geisel's pseudonym. They are sure developing senses of humor will benefit as much as young vocabularies.

Dr. Seuss' latest addition to a family of illustrated children's books is "The Cat in the Hat." It joins such earlier eyebrow-lifting titles as "Yertle the Turtle," "Thidwick the Big - Hearted Moose," and "How the Grinch Stole Christmas."

A WORD and picture tale of a mischievous feline, "The Cat in the Hat" has been hailed by educators, librarians and parents as a significant achievement in the field of books for beginning readers. The tale is told with only 223 words, most of them as simple as "cat" and "hat." But it's fun to read and has sold 300,000 copies already.

The kids have installed Dr. Seuss (it rhymes with goose) as a literary giant. For adults, he displays a constant wit. For instance, a woman in the book department of a Chicago department store where Dr. Seuss was making a personal appearance got involved in this conversation:

Woman: "Are you Dr. Seuss?"

Seuss: "Yes, I'm Dr. Seuss."

Woman: "Why, I'm from your home town."

Seuss: "Where? Springfield, Mass.?"

Woman: "No, LaJolla, Calif. What are you doing here?"

Seuss: "Sitting here in a chair and looking silly. What are you doing here?"

Woman: "I'm visiting."

Seuss: "Well, when you go home, don't tell anyone you saw me."

DR. SEUSS was as talkative with book reporters.

He revealed he started writing children's books with sketches when he read the fine print in his advertising agency contract and discovered that it did not cover that area.

As close as he can come academically to supporting the "Dr." in his pseudonym is a honorary doctor of humane letters he received from his college alma mater, Dartmouth. He also attended Lincoln College, Oxford, England.

He refers to himself as a doodler, first, last and always.

"That's how I met my wife, Helen. We were studying King Lear at Oxford and I was punctuating with doodles, and she wanted to know what they meant," he said.

He uses the doodle technique to get ideas for his children's books. for example.

Take "Horton Hatches an Egg."

"I had this picture drawn of a tree. Then I had an elephant in the tree. Then I asked myself; What the hell is an elephant doing in a tree? Well he's in the tree to hatch an egg. And so it went," he said.

It was the same with "Cat in the Hat."

"I HAD CAT and the only thing I could think of to rhyme with cat is hat."

After Dr. Seuss has a book developed, he hangs on to it for a year or so before he turns it over to his publisher, Random House.

"I suspect they are prompted by the teacher when she steps out for a smoke," She says: 'While I'm gone why don't you write a letter to Dr. Seuss?' One letter I got from Niagara Falls was 45 feet long. It took the kids two years to write it. They rewrote all the stories in the series."

"Did they improve on them?"

"I don't know. I only got to read about 40 feet of the letter," he said.

Vacuum Cleaner Helps In Search for Glasses

He explained he had been using a shovel, but knocked off his glasses. After an hour's search with the vacuum cleaner he found all but one lens.

Then he reversed the hoses on the cleaner and blew away the snow. Out came the missing lens.

Shortest priced favorite to win a Yonkers harness feature in 1958 was Trader Horn. He returned $2.80 winning the Gotham Trot Free-for-All.

Import Problem Solved
